

BODIES OF TWO NEWBORNS FOUND AT DUMPING SITE

Thabazimbi – The Thabazimbi community is shocked by the discovery of the bodies of two newborns on Monday 24 January at the Thabazimbi dumping site. According to CLA911 spokesperson Zandr  Pieterse the babies, one male and one female were wrapped in a blanket and had already passed away when CLA911 responders arrived at the scene. “This was a horrible thing that happened and completely unnecessary. I plead with anyone who ever considers doing something like this to please look at other options. “There are so many alternatives that will not result in the death of an innocent child,” Pieterse said. Police spokesperson Titus Khumalo confirmed that a case of concealment of birth is being investigated. He requested anyone with information to please contact their nearest police station.

Thabazimbi active station commander captain Abel Thapela strongly condemned the incident.

The lifeless bodies of two newborns were found at the Thabazimbi dumping site.

DOING AWAY WITH ILLEGAL DUMPSITES

Thabazimbi – The collaboration between Thabazimbi Local Municipality (TLM), private companies and community members has resulted in better waste management methods at dumping sites. Significant headway has also been made towards bringing back the sparkle to roadside areas that had become an eyesore because of illegal dumping activities. In Thabazimbi, personnel from ArcelorMittal have been assisting with sorting out waste inside the dumping site for more than two weeks now. Additionally, TLM has requested a tractor loader backhoe (TLB) and a tipper truck to assist with cleaning up the illegal dumping along the sides of the Dwaalboom-road that is adjacent to the dumping site. “Anglo American Platinum’s Amandelbult Complex is assisting at the Northam dumping site,” TLM director of Community Services Segale Pilane said. Godisang Thabazimbi Community Development Trust also intends to lend a helping hand. Personnel from the trust are waiting for a presentation from TLM on the state of the dumpsites before deciding on how they can render their assistance. TLM will also explain the challenges being caused by illegal dumping as well as the resources required to address this crisis during a presentation to mining companies on Tuesday 3 March. Although the compactor truck belonging to TLM is not functioning, this is just a temporary setback. While the truck is undergoing repairs, skips are being emptied manually. TLM expressed their gratitude to community members and all stakeholders for joining hands and working towards better waste management.

TLM has joined hands with private companies to fight the effects of illegal dumping.
