WHAT A DUMP!

Northam – What more is there to say about the Northam landfill site? Platinum Bushvelder started reporting on the hazardous smoke emanating from the site as far back as 2019. For a while, the smoke was controlled but the solutions were not sustainable. Businesses around the area are losing money because clients try to avoid the foul odour and clouds of smoke as far as possible. Those who live nearby can hardly breath during the evening and even the schools nearby are severely affected. Various stakeholders have invested in cleaning the landfill. On Wednesday 17 March councillor David Gouveia met up with Siyanda Bakgatla Platinum Mine (SBPM) environmental manager Tendani Mufamadi to find lasting solutions to the problem. “We have to maintain sustainability, a short-term solution is not an option,” said Tendani. Another growing problem that the landfill site faces is the fact that residents dump illegal waste. Just because it’s a rubbish dump, it doesn’t mean that you can just dump anything there. A local butchery recently dumped their expired meat there. Just what the dump needed! The smell of rotting meat to complete the revolting bouquet of odours. That is of course if the reclaimers don’t take it. There are specific ways to get rid of specific waste and residents are advised to make sure what is allowed to be dumped at the site.

Councillor David Gouveia and SBPM environmental manager Tendani Mufamadi are trying to find a lasting solution to the continuous smoke emanating from the landfill site.

Rotten meat was dumped at the landfill.

LEARN HOW TO RECYCLE GLASS

Thabazimbi – RecyclePaperZA in collaboration with Thabazimbi Local Municipality (TLM) is hosting a four-day entrepreneurial course. The course, which will kick-start on 13 April, aims to upskill individuals in the recycling arena to improve their businesses. Light will be shed on how to recycle glass, cans, and plastics.

EFFECTIVE AND SAFE REFUSE DISPOSAL

Northam – The proper management of waste at the Northam landfill site is an important part of achieving the environmental safety and cleanliness objectives of the Thabazimbi Local Municipality (TLM). The municipality is aware that the improper disposal of refuse could have serious health implications to residents as it would put them at risk of contracting diseases. It is against this background that personnel from the municipality, with the assistance of Siyanda-Bakgatla Platinum Mine, began clearing the refuse and waste at the landfill site on Monday 15 March. The clean-up activities are still ongoing, and the municipality has expressed their gratitude to the mine for assisting them to keep the area clean and safe.

The landfill site was properly cleared.

SECURITY GUARD MURDERED...

Lephalale – Police in Lephalale have arrested a 39-year-old suspect in connection with the murder of a 40-year-old security guard. Matshembe Maphambanyene's body was discovered in the guard room at the weigh bridge along the N11 road next to the Groblersbrug border post on Friday 19 March.

"The suspect was arrested at Onverwacht by Lephalale SAPS and Crime Intelligence Unit following a tactical intelligence driven joint operation," police spokesperson brigadier Motlalela Mojapelo revealed. "Two firearms and 15 rounds of live ammunition were confiscated. Preliminary police investigations have revealed that the firearms belong to the company where both the deceased and suspect were employed."

According to police reports, two security officers reported for night duty at about 18h00 on Thursday 18 March and during their routine shift change in the morning, Maphambanyene's body was found in the guardroom. His service pistol was missing, and his colleague was nowhere to be found.

AFRIFORUM'S LIMPOPO NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCHES PARTICIPATE IN NATIONAL PATROL

Limpopo – Last weekend AfriForum's neighbourhood watches in Limpopo participated in a national patrol to maintain increased visibility and test functionality of national communication networks and synchronisation. The neighbourhood watches also worked together with other safety authorities, security companies and the police on 12 March. In all, 228 neighbourhood watch members participated, and 130 vehicles of neighbourhood watch members and other authorities completed 9,058km from 18:00 Friday evening to 06:00 Saturday morning. During the operation support was provided in housebreaking and attempted housebreaking cases. There was also an attempt of vehicle theft which was prevented in cooperation with the police. Neighbourhood watch members in cooperation with the Heritage Protection Group foiled the recycling of presumably stolen copper cables. The main aim was however to establish visibility of alert communities. The reflective jackets, vehicle magnets, vehicle roof lights and torches that lighted up the streets, resulted in this goal being achieved. Andries Opperman, safety coordinator for Limpopo, thanked the neighbourhood watch members for their selfless service. "Here we see how communities take ownership of their safety in a professional and disciplined manner and purposefully establish a network of cooperation within the framework of the law to thereby ensure their prosperous existence. Our most important weapon is our reflective jackets and liaison and synchronisation at a national level. Criminals withdraw themselves from a community that is visibly alert and that work together."

MAGNIFICENT MARULA

Thabazimbi – Thanks to an excellent marketing campaign linked to elephants, Amarula liqueur has made the marula tree (Sclerocarya birrea) known throughout the world. The marula tree belongs to the same family (Anacardiaceae) as the mango, pistachio and cashew nuts. Its use probably dates to 9000BC as piles of marula stones were discovered in the Matobos caves in Zimbabwe which were inhabited by people at that time.

This deciduous tree can reach heights of 17 metres and grows in frost free areas of the bushveld and woodlands of Kwa-Zulu Natal, North West and Limpopo as well as Swaziland, Botswana, Mozambique, and Zimbabwe. At the moment many of the marula trees are laden with fruit which vary in size and flavour. Each fruit has a single nut or stone, which contains three protein-rich edible kernels. It takes patience and skill to remove [intact] these kernels and gogo’s armed with a rock seem to know just where to hit the nut to get it out. The ripe fruits have a leathery, smooth yellow peel which covers a whitish flesh, high in vitamin C and tart in taste. The ripe fruit fall to the ground where they ferment in the sun and attract elephants, baboons, monkeys, and insects. People collect the fruit to make traditional marula beer or a delicious jam which goes well with roasted meat or biltong. The simplest use is to peel six fruit and drop them whole in a litre of water which is chilled overnight to allow the flavour to emerge.

A local resident of Thabazimbi, who do not want to be named told the Platinum Bushvelder that he went around town and collected 10kg of marula fruit that fell off trees around town. He let the fruit ferment in water, sugar, and rice for six weeks before distilling it in a special kettle to make mampoer. He warned that Google do not provide a fail-proof recipe for making marula mampoer and that it was better to talk to someone who had made it before. He made marula mampoer because of the pandemic restrictions on selling liquor. The oil from the kernels is also used in cooking, cosmetics, and haircare products.

March is a month of plenty in Limpopo with marula fruit and mopane worms being available.

INVESTING IN CHILDREN – INVESTING IN THE FUTURE

Northam – During a heartfelt ceremony hosted by Bishop Isaac Mokgope (BIM) School of Learning, six children from the Northam community received bursaries on Saturday 6 March. The bursaries were made possible by donations from the New Covenant Fellowship International congregation. “We are here today to stand together and show the Northam community that God cares about them and their children. We are grateful for the opportunity to help these six underprivileged youth by awarding them bursaries sponsored by the church and the school. It will give them the opportunity to learn in a conducive environment so that they have a chance on a better future, being assets to their communities,” said BIM School of Learning owner and of New Covenant Fellowship International bishop Isaac Mogale.

BIM School of Learning principal Riaan Roux added: “Children are our future and a vital part of the community.” Magda Roux will also be providing after school tutoring, and the community is welcome to contact the school for more information regarding the subjects they offer. Northam councillors David Gouveia and Tshogfatso Ramoabi, as well as Laerskool Platina Primary Principal Lottie van der Westhuizen also stepped up to assist. This is a new and exciting journey for the children who received the bursaries. The joy and enthusiasm could be seen on their faces. A great thank you to the sponsors and guardians of these children as well as Thabang Children’s Home for their assistance in creating a better future for the learners.

CORRECTIONAL SERVICES RISING TO THE CHALLENGE

Thabazimbi – Due to a lack of water, the SASSA building in Thabazimbi was closed on Friday 12 March. Four departments which include SASSA, the Department of Social Development, Home Affairs and Thabazimbi Correctional Services share the building. Members of the public that depend on their SASSA grants could not access their services for the day. In response, Thabazimbi Correctional Services members made a plan, by providing the facility with bottled water.

Bottles of water were transported to the SASSA building after a water interruption forced them to close their doors.

Hoof nuus in die rugbywêreld is die skok aankondiging van CJ Stander wat besluit het om sy stewels te verruil vir sy vellies. Hy keer terug na sy plaas in Suid Afrika om te kom boer en om meer tyd saam met sy gesin te kan deurbring.

Vir Ierland is dit 'n geweldige terugslag want CJ was 'n toring van krag in die Ierse pak. En daar sal ook nog baie by die vuurtjie gekoukus word oor die feit dat hy kamtig te klein was om vir die Bokke te speel. CJ is een van die beste losvoorspelers op die planeet.
