GUNPOINT ROBBERY @ THABA MALL

Thabazimbi – Shortly after 11 o'clock on Sunday 18 April, Pep Home in Thaba Mall was robbed at gunpoint by four males. Platinum Bushvelder spoke to several customers and employees at the mall about the incident – who were quite traumatised by the ordeal. The gunmen fired one shot, which was heard by several mall shoppers who scrambled for their lives. One cartridge and one projectile (which accounts for 1 bullet fired) was found at the scene. The alarm was raised, notifying SAPS and local security groups, as the suspects fled the scene towards Northam in a Corsa bakkie. Read more on page 3.

Manhunt for 4 house-robbers

Lephale – A joint team of detectives from the Limpopo SAPS provincial office and Waterberg District is working around the clock to track down and arrest the remaining four suspects involved in the house robbery at Lephale mayor Jack Maseko's home on Sunday 14 February.

“Two people have already been arrested,” police spokesperson colonel Moatshe Ngoepe said.

A Mozambican national, allegedly part of the gang involved in the robbery, Portia Kgama (34), appeared before the Phalala Magistrates' Court on Friday 9 April after she was arrested in Gauteng. She was remanded in custody and appeared in court again on Wednesday 21 April for a bail application.

Joao Antonio Lucas, the second suspect that was arrested, was denied bail during his first appearance in court. His case was postponed to Monday 31 May. Lucas has been linked to similar offences and is expected to appear in several other magistrate courts in KwaZulu-Natal.

Colonel Ngoepe summarised the case: “It is alleged that four unknown armed men, accompanied by two women, arrived in three vehicles. They stopped at the gate of the mayor's house and asked the security guard to see the mayor. Before the guard could respond, they assaulted and overpowered him, entered the house, and tied everybody up before they ransacked the house.”

The suspects stole a Toyota Legend 45 and fled the scene. The car was later found abandoned along Lebu road in the Tomburke policing area outside Lephale. The security guard sustained serious injuries.

Anyone with information that can lead to their arrest is requested to contact colonel Malesela Mogale on 071 479 2329, the Crime Stop Number 08600 10111 or visit your nearest police station.

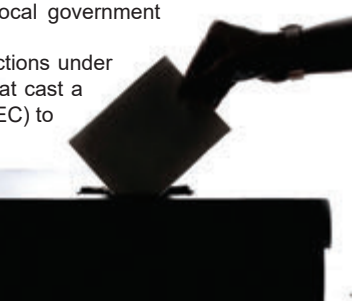

Strict COVID-19 voting regulations

SA – President Cyril Ramaphosa announced that this year's local government elections will be held on Wednesday 27 October.

The announcement comes after South Africa held its first by-elections under COVID-19 protocols on Wednesday 21 April – a development that cast a shadow on the ability of the Independent Electoral Commission (IEC) to adhere to constitutional obligations during the global pandemic.

Polls were held in 15 municipal wards across seven provinces on Wednesday 21 April.

The local government elections – which will be held for the sixth time under South Africa's democratic dispensation – will be one of the major events on the country's political calendar.

TAR in dire need of dog food

Thabazimbi – April is Animal Abuse Awareness month. The dedicated staff at Thabazimbi Animal Rescue (TAR) are actively involved in helping animals who have been abused and/or abandoned.

"It's astonishing how many abused, neglected, and stray animals we come across. Our biggest concern and the number of chained dogs or underfed dogs," said TAR kennel manager Magda Steward. "We were recently faced with a situation where pet owners did not take the pets to a vet when they really needed it, and even worse... one pet owner fed their dog rotten food." Animal abuse take on many forms. Firstly, there is trauma and physical harm. TAR had the unfortunate experience of dealing with a poor dog who was burned with cooking oil and stabbed.

Neglect is another form of animal abuse. This is where dogs are chained up and don't have enough space to move around or don't get enough attention. Certain breeders force animals to mate to produce puppies for profit. In some cases, the females are over-bred and get diseases like cancer or their organs start to fail because their bodies can't handle giving birth over and over again.

Magda added: "In order to break the breeding cycle, we want to encourage people to have their dogs neutered. It is important that we teach children from a very young age to nurture pets."

Although TAR receive several reports of pet abuse, they have to act within the confines of the law. That means, if you report a case, they will go out and assess the situation. They will first try to educate pet owners to properly take care of their pets. If the pet is in immediate danger, the owners have to take the dog to the vet that same day or sign over the pet to TAR. If the owner decides that they don't want to opt for the any of the two options, the case gets handed over to the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (NSPCA). The SPCA also accompanies TAR members to investigate cases of animal abuse. TAR currently has 18 dogs looking for their forever-homes and they are in urgent need of food to feed the animals in their care. For more information, to get involved, or to report matters of abuse (information will be kept confidential), contact TAR on 082 375 4064. Photo: TAR kennel manager Magda Steward.

NEW EMPLOYMENT EQUITY BILL

New Employment Equity Bill would require large-scale relocations across South Africa... Conceptually and technically incompatible with the Rule of Law

On Tuesday 13 April, Sakeliga made verbal submissions to the Portfolio Committee on Employment and Labour on the proposed Employment Equity Amendment Bill. The bill empowers the Minister of Labour to prescribe racial demographic employment targets for individual companies to implement at every workplace and at every occupational level, under threat of fines and denial of compliance certificates. Sakeliga chief executive Piet le Roux presented three underlying problems with the bill, namely the timing of its introduction; the implications of its vision; and that racial classification is something South Africa ought to be moving away from, not doubling down on. Fundamentally, Le Roux argued, success for the bill would mean failure for society as a place of human flourishing. "The bill envisions a future where every organisation, at each of its workplaces, at every occupation level, and in all its teams, reflect the racial demographics of the country, the province or the sector, whichever the Minister picks. Any deviation from this standard is considered by the bill to be an affront and subject to remedy by the state, under penalty of fines or worse." "The problem with this vision is that it can only be achieved by limiting employment opportunities for some people in those areas where they are 'over-represented' and requiring them by whatever direct or indirect means to seek employment in other parts of the country where that racial category is 'under-represented'. This would constitute a new kind of migrant labour system, with detrimental effect on the stability and vitality of concrete communities in all racial groups from which its members would have to emigrate to suit the bill's vision. We are speaking about millions of people from all race groups having to relocate if ever the bill is to achieve what it seeks."

NW confirms a case of African Swine Flu

NW – A registered outbreak of African Swine Fever (ASF) in Wilgeboom in a ZA-registered compartment (ZA10/20A) in Potchefstroom was reported on 9 April. The diagnosis was confirmed from tissue samples that were collected from a post-mortem that was conducted on the farm by a private veterinarian. The Provincial Disaster Management Centre was invited to participate as the situation was slowly developing to a crisis situation. South African Pig Producers Organization (SAPPO) assisted the farm during the outbreak in various ways. The Department is maintaining quarantine at the farm as a control measure.

They decide what you need to know

[Letter to the editor]

For months on end, there has been a lot of talk about how Google manipulate data available on their search engine, and that they plan to phase out advertising cookies which will force advertisers to buy ad space through them. The UK's Daily Mail has put their money where their mouth is, and filed an antitrust lawsuit against Google over search engine censorship. The Daily Mail deserve to be one of the most popular news websites in the world. Google will think twice before smearing and blacklisting them as conspiracy theorists or propagandists. It has been proven without a doubt that... you get different web results to the same search, depending on the country you are in. The results are also manipulated considering Google's agenda and political views. So, you thought you had freedom of speech and freedom of access to information... you might have freedom of speech, but not the latter...

They will decide what you need to know and what not. They also influence your right of having an opinion, because even if you are lucky enough that they don't block you, you will only appear in search results where and if they allow it. Three hoorays for Daily Mail!

Cannot afford a place to stay

[Letter to the editor]

Has anyone noted the cost of affordable housing in Thabazimbi? There is an outcry from Thabazimbi's residents on social media. Do the landlords care? Like many others, I only earn R5,000 a month. I was looking for a one-bedroom place to rent – which is very scarce. I eventually found a one-bedroom apartment for R4,000 per month, with a deposit to match. That leaves me with R1,000 for food, petrol, and school supplies for my child. I call on developers or people who have property available in Thabazimbi, to please make affordable housing available to people in my income group. Soon to be Homeless

With about 120 children who need to be fed daily, as well as 800 other families who need their support... they cannot do it alone.

They are calling on the Thabazimbi community to open their hearts and wallets to assist them to deliver basic items to poor and disadvantaged members of our community. They are in urgent need of shoes, children's clothing, babywear, mealie-meal, nappies, wipes, toiletries, blankets, jackets, and warm clothing for adults.
