Thabazimbi/ Northam – The tragic loss of life in accidents over the past year on the R510 prompted a multi-disciplinary team to run road safety campaigns in Thabazimbi on Tuesday 5 April and in Northam on Friday 8 April.

The team is making an all-out effort to create awareness and to address issues causing accidents on the R510. The Limpopo Provincial Traffic department teamed up with representatives from the Thabazimbi Traffic Police, the Department of Transport and Community Safety, the Thabazimbi Local Municipality, the Road Traffic Infringement Agency (RTIA), the Thabazimbi Police, the Northam Police, the Administrative Adjudication of Road Traffic Offences (AARTO) outlet, the Department of Home Affairs, Marakele National Park and Anglo American Platinum's Amandelbult Complex protection services.

The joint road safety campaign left several drivers red-faced. More than 220 vehicles were pulled over and 21 fines were issued for unroadworthy vehicles. One vehicle was also impounded because the driver had no permit and two Pakistani nationals were detained for being in the country illegally. All of the vehicles which were pulled over were checked for roadworthiness and licenses, and the licenses and permits of the drivers were also checked. The vehicles were also searched for illegal items – including rhino horn.

Said RTIA programme manager Grace Mogashoa: "Road safety is everyone's responsibility. This partnership is vital to curb the carnage on our roads."

Nduvheni Mummai, station commander of the Department of Transport and Community Safety pointed out: "Many fatal accidents are caused by unroadworthy vehicles."

Bishop Jan Mogotsi prayed for God's intervention on the R510 and that the efforts of all the role-players on the day would bear fruit.

SERIAL SCAMMER

PART 2

Background

Rustenburg – Platinum Weekly was made aware of a man pretending to be a lodge owner in our area, so we set out to investigate. We ended up going down a rabbit hole of scams. The audacity of this serial scammer is mind boggling. We are placing only one or two of his scams per week in our newspapers. At the time of going to print, we already interviewed several of his victims. This serial scammer is also extremely dangerous and armed. He was recorded online, taking out his gun and threatening to shoot another man.

His scams almost play out like a movie... except it's not. It's real life and it's real people who lost real money. It is a pity, however, that only some of his victims have opened criminal cases at SAPS. In some of the cases his scams appear to be nothing more than a power play... a need to impress the ladies...

More and more victims are coming forward and Platinum Weekly aims to expose all of his scams in the weeks ahead. We hope to warn people about his modus operandi, so that they don't get caught in his web of lies. Hopefully he will be brought to book soon so that we can reveal his identity.

To protect his victims, we will keep them anonymous.

How low can you go?

Farmers in the Northern Cape are still struggling because of long periods of droughts. Various initiatives are run nationwide where farmers or organisations assist struggling farmers with fodder for livestock. The Helpful Farmer (victim 3) who also assist struggling farmers, was referred to Mr Scammer as a person who might also be able to assist. He corresponded with Mr Scammer who told him that he is willing and able to help him – he apparently had more than enough fodder to give away and a truck to deliver it with. All he asked the farmer was the delivery costs from Rustenburg to the Northern Cape. The cost of this trip, Mr Scammer said, "amounts to about R15,000" but the "generous" Mr Scammer said that they only have to pay over R11,000. Desperate to help those in need, the Helpful Farmer (victim 3) agreed and paid over the money. The fodder never arrived.

Scamming the scammer

There are many people who are currently looking for Mr Scammer, whether it is to get a summons delivered or to give the details to SAPS. Victim 4 was almost successful in tracking him down. She managed to get Mr Scammer's latest contact number and reached out to him. However, the person on the other side said that he is not Mr Scammer but that he knows where Mr Scammer is.

He told her that Mr Scammer is part of the mafia and that he is always surrounded by bodyguards but that if she pays him R500, he will go and take photos of Mr Scammer and forward it to her to track him down.

She immediately knew it was a scam but decided to play along. When she asked for his banking details, she was asked to send the money via a money transfer at a local store, as he apparently does not have a bank account. He then contacted Victim 4 again and again, asking for the money, but she just kept telling him that the money is on the way. Frustrated with having to wait for the money, he told her that "it is clearly not that important for you to find Mr Scammer and that you are lying about the money". Her response: "This is just a taste of your own medicine Mr Scammer"... Needless to say, he immediately blocked her number on his phone.

In part one Mr Scammer manipulated one of his victims by telling her that his daughter has died. Not only was the 'daughter' he was referring to alive and well, but the Platinum Weekly was told that the daughter is not his daughter, but the daughter of his girlfriend.

He operates all over the show. If some of these stories sound familiar to you, please let us know about it. Even if you were scammed a year or two ago, you can still report it at SAPS. We urge victims to go and to their nearest police station so that a case can be opened. This dangerous man should be brought to book.

If you missed part one you can read about it in Platinum Weekly's 8 April issue. Watch this space for part 3, where more of his scams will be exposed.

Names have been withheld to protect the victims.

CHRISTINE'S MURDERER ON TRIAL

Thabazimbi – Christine Robinson (59), a retired British teacher, was brutally attacked, raped and murdered on 31 July 2014. The Thabazimbi community took a stand against farm murders when the man suspected of killing her appeared before the Thabazimbi Magistrates' Court on 13 August 2020.

Christine Robinson

Christine was a British national living on a farm near Thabazimbi. She was stabbed several times before the murderer cut her throat. Police reports said she was raped and stabbed to death in her bedroom.

The 30-year-old employee, her gardener, who is suspected of the murder was finally arrested on 31 July 2020 on the sixth anniversary of the brutal murder. During the court appearance, the Thabazimbi community drove around the courthouse displaying signs and honking their hooters.

Christine's niece tracked down the suspect in a honeytrap operation.

Andrew Ndlovu, 32, who now goes by Andrea Imbayarwo, appeared before the Polokwane High Court on Monday 11 April 2022. He pleaded not guilty to rape and murder before the case was adjourned until the trial on Wednesday 13 April 2022.

But prosecutor George Sekhukhune said that Ndlovu's semen was found in Robinson's room, placing him at the scene of the crime. Ndlovu (from Zimbabwe), fled to his home country after the attack but returned to SA several times under false names.

Truck debris next to the road.

An accident waiting to happen

Thabazimbi – Over the past few years, several truck accidents at the T-junction at Total Garage on the R510 were recorded. In some of these accidents, the drivers of the trucks were killed. According to a local truck driver, the road leading to this T-junction takes serious negotiating, especially if it is carrying a heavy load. He says that drivers who don't know this treacherous piece of road, often misjudge it.

In Platinum Bushvelder's issue of 12 April 2019, we reported on a truck accident on 8 April at the same spot in which the driver was killed. He also lost control of his truck for reasons 'unknown'. That was the second truck accident that year at that spot. There were six truck accidents at the same spot in 2018.

In the latest truck accident at this spot, the trailer of the truck was fully loaded with scrap metal. The driver lost control of the truck, which went straight through the T-junction ending up on the railway line. The driver's cabin dislodged and ended up on the other side of the railway.

We spoke to Thabazimbi's Traffic Department acting traffic manager Isaac Pheto, who said: "We cannot confirm the reason for the accident. There are some allegations about the vehicle's roadworthy status, fatigue and human error that might have caused the driver to lose control." He says that the newly-erected road traffic signs were damaged or vandalised and that the department is having talks about the feasibility of constructing an arrestor bed.

"I ask truck drivers on this road to comply with the laws of the road. There are several signs when you come down the R510, asking heavy duty vehicles to gear down. Remember, if you push your truck to go faster down this road, you are pushing your death warranty also," Pheto said.

Owner of Eagle Mountain Spur and Total garage, Jacques Blaauw, whose businesses are a stone throw away from the accident spot says: "This is a ticking time bomb. The liability on the government's part is significant, especially if a life is lost. They need to take action."

Placing an obituary

Announcing the death of a family member is a time-honoured tradition as life should be celebrated and never forgotten. To help you to celebrate the life of your loved one and share details about the upcoming funeral, place an obituary in our newspaper, free of charge.

You can include the date of death, details about their life and surviving family members. You can also write a special message, a poem or a prayer. Please include a photo and the date, time and place of the memorial service.

If you would like to place an obituary in Platinum Weekly / Platinum Bushvelder, send the information via WhatsApp to 072 482 6871 or email news@platinumweekly.co.za / news@platinumbushvelder.co.za.

WHOSE LAND IS IT?

Thabazimbi – Certain disgruntled Bakgatla-Ba-Kgafela community members accompanied by members of the Limpopo Economic Freedom Fighters (EFF) marched to the Dwaalboom Police Station on Tuesday 12 April.

In a statement dated 11 April they said that they are unhappy about an interdict obtained by a farmer preventing tribal members from getting access to harvest the sunflowers planted by them on tribal land.

The real dispute however is... Who are the rightful owners of the land? ... and how should it be managed?

A power struggle in the Bakgatla-Ba-Kgafela has complicated things. As many other matters relating to the Bakgatla-Ba-Kgafela, this matter has been going back and forth in the Courts, with the latest judgement, once again in favour of the farmer being contested by certain Bakgatla community members with the support of the EFF. The farmer, who has a contract with the Bakgatla-Ba-Kgafela and also with the Bakgatla-Ba-Kgafela Communal Property Association is now stuck in the middle and has been bearing the brunt of the disgruntled Bakgatla-Ba-Kgafela community members. He shared the story about his journey since the start of his first contract with the Bakgatla with Platinum Bushvelder. Look out for his letter in our next issue.

Rain, no need for panic

Thabazimbi – The Thabazimbi Crisis Control Centre (TCCC) confirmed that there is no need to panic about the Crocodile River's water levels.

“Although all the sluices at Hartbeespoort Dam is open, it's only opened on level one. There is no danger of flooding due to the sluices. But we will keep the community informed should the situation change,” their message reads.

They plead with the community NOT to swim in the river or take a boat out at this stage. Plenty of crocodiles and hippos are out and about.

For more information, contact TCCC at 066 211 6355.

DEATH THREATS

Thabazimbi - If a concerned community member did not stop to distract the dogs away from Daan Benade, things could have turned out much worse. Benade walked down Bosbok Street on Sunday to go and buy airtime, when he was attacked by dogs. For some time now, he has noticed dogs roaming the streets. As he was walking down the street a dog in one of the yards started barking at him. The next moment he heard dogs growling behind him.

“I don't know what breed of dogs it was, but they were big” Benade said. As he turned around, they stormed towards him. “One of them jumped at me and bit my arm,” He yelled at the dog who let go of his arm, but the dogs immediately started growling again, ready to attack. Someone driving by (in a black vehicle) stopped when he saw the commotion. He distracted the dogs, which gave Benade a chance to get away.

Platinum Bushvelder spoke to Tania Stone of TAR. “The dogs walking the streets pose a threat to pedestrians and people taking their pets for a walk,” she says. She calls on pet owners to make sure their dogs don't leave their yards unattended. They also face getting run over.

Says Izandra Botha of Platinum Bushvelder: “I used to go for walks with my son and my dog regularly. Since January I cant do it anymore, as there are too many scary dogs just walking the streets unattended.

Snake in the grass

Critical shortage of antivenom

Johan Marais milking a Cape Cobra (Naja nivea). Image: Luke Kemp

Mozambican spitting cobra
The Mozambican spitting cobra is fairly common and classified as very dangerous. Being spitting cobras, these snakes are able to project their venom at a distance of about 2 meters. The venom of a Mozambique spitting cobra is cytotoxic, meaning those who are bitten experience tissue damage, accompanied by pain. However, a more serious condition arises if their venom comes into contact with a person's eyes as it can lead to blindness.

Puff adder

A puff adder relies on its excellent camouflage. It gets its name from the way it inflates itself and hisses when threatened. Consider the hissing sound of a puff adder as a warning. It has one of the fastest strikes of all snakes. Their venom is potentially cytotoxic, causing severe pain, swelling, blistering and in many cases severe tissue damage. Polyvalent antivenom is effective and should be administered immediately.

Thabazimbi – Reptile Inc co-owner Petrus van Breda in Thabazimbi had a busy month. During March he caught a Mozambican spitting cobra, three snouted cobras, three mambas, one puff adder and a boomslang. Some of them were caught in town and others on smallholdings surrounding Thabazimbi.

As humans expand their territory, they start moving into the territory of other species. Inevitably, snakes will end up in yards and houses on smallholdings and the suburbs – a thought that makes most people a bit uncomfortable.

Regardless of how you feel about snakes, what is truly worrisome is the fact that there is a critical shortage of antivenom in South Africa, should your snake encounter end up in a bite.

South African Vaccine Producers (SAVP) are the only manufacturers of antivenom in South Africa. African Snakebite Institute's Johan Marais said that no stock is available from the manufacturers...

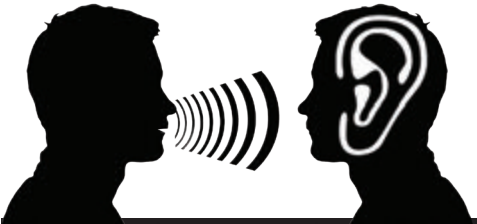

“There is more than enough venom to make the antivenom, there is just not enough antivenom currently being produced,” Marais said.

There is enough antivenom for emergencies only. Now that hospitals can't keep stock on hand, they will have to order from the SAVP and wait for it to arrive – when they encounter an emergency.

“Polyvalent antivenom, which costs just under R2,000 per vial, covers the venom of mambas, most cobras, the rinkhals, puff adder and gaboon adder. Black mamba victims are usually started off with 12 vials but may require as many as 20 vials,” Marais said. This is also troublesome for vets that have to treat animals that are bitten by snakes.

The Platinum Bushvelder spoke to the SAVP about the antivenom shortage. They said that they are currently performing mandatory Good Manufacturing Practice validations and that routine production will commence once these validations are completed.

Puff adders and Mozambican spitting cobras are two snake species that are commonly found in our region.

Act now – your human rights might be affected

SA – The Department of Health published new regulations under the National Health Act which will effectively act as a long-term permanent replacement to South Africa's state of disaster Covid-19 regulations. The Department of Health confirmed that once these regulations are approved, it would be implemented without being tabled in parliament. However... some of these regulations might affect your human rights.

These regulations are open to public comment, but time is running out so make sure you send your opinion on these regulations by Friday 15 April.

ATT: Department of Health Tsakani Furumele
fax: 012 395 8802
email: tsakani.furumele@health.gov.za

Read the full list of the proposed amendments at https://www.gov.za/sites/default/files/gcis_document/202203/46048gon1882.pdf

The African Snakebite Institute's website explains the intricate process of making antivenom. The snake venom used to make the antivenom is sourced from individuals and companies locally and elsewhere in Africa. The SAVP make antivenom by hyper immunising horses, a process that takes around nine months during which small quantities of snake venom are injected into horses, not enough to harm the horse, but enough to trigger its immune system.

The amount of venom injected is gradually increased as the horse becomes more resistant to the venom. Once immune, blood is drawn from the horse at two-month intervals and the serum is removed from the blood, the latter is returned to the horse and the serum purified. It is bottled in 10ml vials in liquid form.

Have your say / Sê jou sê

Do you think Will Smith was right by slapping Chris Rock?

A joke is not a joke if it is at the expense of someone else, but even if we don't want to admit it, sometimes it's still funny. Violence is never the answer, but what if it is about defending someone you love?

Yes, he did what is right for his wife. She is ill and didn't deserve it.

Andria van der Westhuizen

I think both were wrong, because Will Smith is also a comedian, and I'm sure he has joked about other people as well that he didn't get slapped for. Chris Rock was supposed to be sensitive towards his colleague and showing respect for his personal life. Will Smith also degraded himself by slapping Chris Rock and fell to his level. So, they were both wrong. To joke about someone's illness is very insensitive.

Alvin Mafukidze

SOULFOOD

PSALM 11

Faith in the Lord's Righteousness
To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.
11 In the Lord I put my trust;
How can you say to my soul,
"Flee as a bird to your mountain"?
2 For look! The wicked bend their bow,
They make ready their arrow on the string,
That they may shoot secretly at the upright in heart.
3 If the foundations are destroyed,
What can the righteous do?
4 The Lord is in His holy temple,
The Lord's throne is in heaven;
His eyes behold,
His eyelids test the sons of men.
5 The Lord tests the righteous,
But the wicked and the one who loves violence His soul hates.
6 Upon the wicked He will rain coals;
Fire and brimstone and a burning wind
Shall be the portion of their cup.
7 For the Lord is righteous,
He loves righteousness;
His countenance beholds the upright.

POLL

Will you ever go bungee jumping?

Those who have done it describes bungee jumping as amazing, incredible, awesome, mind blowing... but it's not for the fainthearted. Will you ever take the plunge? Make yourself heard by sending an email to news@platinumbushvelder.co.za or a WhatsApp to 081 579 7000 with the following information before 17:00 on Tuesday 19 April:

- Yes, I'll go bungee jumping, or,
- No, I'll won't go bungee jumping.
- The reason for your answer.
- A recent photo of yourself (optional) – that we can publish with your answer.
- Your contact details.

If you don't want your answers to be in the newspaper, just reply to the question: YES/ NO.

The results of the votes will be published in our next issue.

PS – You can also give your opinion by commenting on our Facebook post.

YOUR FRIDAY FUN FACT

Did you know?

Our ears are always working even when we sleep. Our brains are capable of ignoring sounds around us and only react to loud or unexpected noises as a defence mechanism that allows us to respond rapidly.

We want a better Northam

[Letter to the editor]

Northam was once a town to be proud of. I grew up in this town. Just like my grandparents and my parents, I always make an effort to play my part to try and make our area look nice, like keeping our yards and the pavement clean and planting trees.

But Northam has fallen back so far, that no effort seems to help. Look at our streets. The rubbish is everywhere, the potholes in some places are so deep that no one knows where to drive. It breaks my heart.

I'm pleading with the municipality to PLEASE do something. I am also prepared to do my part, as change begins with ourselves. This situation has gone too far. I am sure it is a health risk to stay in Northam and I know I am not the only one that feels this way.

Pleading with the municipality

Mayor Swanepoel wishes the people of TLM a happy Easter weekend

Thabazimbi – During Easter, we reflect on grace and forgiveness. It is a wonderful opportunity for families and friends to get together socially or to attend church services. Because Easter is about grace, it should also be a time to think about others less fortunate than ourselves. Let's extend this grace to others in need. To those of you who will be travelling long distances to family gatherings or churches, travel safe. Please always obey the rules of the road and be alert. By doing this, you take responsibility for your own safety and that of other road users. I trust that you will enjoy this time of reflection with your family and that it will boost you with a spiritual reawakening. On behalf of Council, we wish everyone a wonderful, happy and safe Easter weekend. May this time of renewal invigorate your spirit and strengthen your faith. Arrive alive!

Cllr JEA Swanepoel (Tökkie)

KMC Mining support the Skierlik community

Skierlik/ Thabazimbi – KMC Mining donated groceries to the Skierlik community on Thursday 7 April. The food parcels consisted of flour, sugar, rice, canned food, various vegetables, tee, coffee, peanut butter, jam, oil and washing powder. "We saw that there was a need. There are many children in the Skierlik village who are in need, so we decided to help... to the best of our ability. We bought all the foodstuffs beforehand and took it to Skierlik on 7 April," says Director of KMC Mining Patrick Matiwane. With this project KMC aims to inspire others to start their own campaigns, helping to support the needy. "If you see that someone is in need and you are able to do something about it, please do," says Matiwane. Ward councillor Pontsho Sello thanked KMC Mining on behalf of the community.

The joy of giving!

Arendse and Baxter feel the heat!

SA – SuperSport United's newly appointed coach Andre Arendse and Kaizer Chiefs' mentor Stuart Baxter will have a lot to prove when their clubs clash in a Premier Soccer League (PSL) match. The encounter, to be played at the FNB Stadium on Saturday 16 April promises to be a cracker for a number of reasons. Firstly, Arendse will want to prove his ability after taking over from Kaitano Tembo, whose future at the club has come under the spotlight owing to the team's failure to mount a stronger challenge for the PSL title. SuperSport United will struggle to finish among the top five teams at the end of the season and for a team that is used to winning the title on many occasions... it's a bitter pill to swallow. And the high standard that former coach Gavin Hunt left at the club makes it difficult for anyone to fill his shoes. When Hunt left the club in May 2013, Baxter had won the league title for three consecutive seasons from 2007 to 2010 – something that has so far proved impossible for any coach at any club to replicate. Even the likes of Gordon Igesund and Baxter himself cannot boast of such an accomplishment so you can understand why the job of being a coach at SuperSport United coach is definitely 'a hot seat'! Baxter, on the other hand, will feel that a victory over SuperSport United will enhance the team's chances of securing a second-place finish at the end of the season. With Mamelodi Sundowns almost assured of winning the title, Royal AM, Chiefs and Cape Town City are all vying for a second-place finish in a very tight race that looks set to go all the way to the wire! City and Chiefs are both on 39 points now and Royal AM, who are on 43 points, are well positioned to brew a shocker by finishing second and completing what has truly been a remarkable season for the PSL debutants. With just 4 points separating Chiefs and Royal AM, the Soweto giants will now have to win all their remaining 8 matches to stand a chance of finishing second. And while they are winning, they will also have to cross their fingers that Royal AM drop points in their last 6 matches. Be sure not to miss any of the PSL games coming up this weekend!

Premier soccer league fixtures:

Saturday 16 April

- AmaZulu vs Maritzburg United at Moses Mabhida Stadium (kick-off is at 15:00)
- Sekhukhune United vs TS Galaxy at Makhulong Stadium (kick-off is at 15:00)
- Cape Town City FC vs Royal AM at DHL Stadium (kick-off is at 17:00)
- Kaizer Chiefs vs SuperSport United at FNB Stadium (kick-off is at 19:30)

Sunday 17 April

- Marumo Gallants FC vs Moroka Swallows at Peter Mokaba Stadium (kick-off is at 15:00)

HFM kuier by Voortrekkermonument

Thabazimbi – Hoërskool Frikkie Meyer (HFM) leerders het besoek afgelê by die Voortrekkermonument te Pretoria op 7 April. Vir meer as 30 van dié jong seuns en dogters was dit hulle heel eerste ervaring by dié kultuurtuiste. Een ding wat die leerlinge veral bygeval het, is die enorme verskil in die gereedskap wat gebruik is tydens die Groot Trek teenoor vandag. Die groep het onder meer in die Senotaafsaaal die gereedskap en artefakte bestudeer, wat veral Charl Buys (17) se belangstelling geprikkel het. “Dit het vir my uitgestaan dat die Bybel nog in so ‘n goeie toestand is,” aldus Buys. Bernita McDonald (15) sê die uitstappie gaan haar familie baie jaloers maak. “Toe ek die monument sien, het dit dadelik my aandag getrek. Ek kan nie wag om my ma hiervan te vertel nie, sy gaan so jaloers wees,” sê McDonald wat vir die eerste keer die monument besoek het.
