Mining for answers but extracting questions

Protesters delivered their memorandum of demands to SANParks.

Thabazimbi – Unhappy community members delivered their memorandum of demands to the South African National Parks (SANParks) at the gates of Marakele National Park (MNP) on Thursday 6 July 2023. The protest came after SANParks' objection to the opening of an iron ore mine, named Arengo297, which protesters believe will create more job opportunities.

According to extracts from memorandum of demands: "You (SANParks) are fully aware that this is the only mining licence where a black South African woman is a majority stakeholder in the city of Thabazimbi and the province of Limpopo. This should be a milestone and cause for celebration for our younger generation, especially ladies. The aggrieved indigenous communities of Thabazimbi, a city whose identity, livelihood, and history is intertwined with iron ore mining, have been looking forward to the opening of this mine and the new jobs that it will bring to our community. Your objection to this mining application is an outright denial of our community rights and a significant threat to our primary and potential source of income."

After the non-violent protest, Platinum Bushvelder sought to shed light on the issue by identifying all the parties involved and by requesting clarity on the matter.

Extracts issued by SANParks as a response to the memorandum on 26 July: "SANParks objected to the proposed mine primarily on the basis that the mine would be located on the border with an area that will soon be part of Marakele National Park. This concern was not adequately addressed by the environmental assessment practitioner (EAP) in its response to SANParks comments in this regard. It was also not clear from the environmental impact assessment report (EIA report) whether the proposed mining operation would be ecologically sustainable. SANParks also notes with concern the inaccurate statements in the memorandum that the life of the mine is expected to be 100 years and that over 2000 jobs will be directly and indirectly granted. The EIA report provides that the life of the mine to be approximately 30 years. SANParks would also like to point out that one of the specialist reports submitted as part of the EIA report also highlighted the fact that the mine could threaten existing employment in the region's wildlife economy. It should be clear that SANParks' objection had nothing to do with the identity of the director of the mining company or because it is opposed to mining and the creation of job opportunities through mining. SANParks' continued focus and commitment to contribute meaningfully to the Green Economy through its three pillars of sustainable conservation, responsible tourism and socio-economic transformation, and by upholding environmental values for which it has been mandated."

According to the mining company's website, Arengo297 is managed by a chief executive officer (CEO), a president/chairlady (said to be the majority stakeholder), and a chief operating officer (COO). Platinum Bushvelder spoke to the president/chairlady on 17 July. The president/chairlady identified herself as the CEO of the mining company, and according to the chairlady, she could not comprehend why the mine's opening was being hindered, as they had procured a mining licence and had followed all the necessary steps and procedures. The president/chairlady also added that the mining company was in no way involved with the protest but said that anyone has the right to peacefully protest. Unfortunately, Platinum Bushvelder could not retrieve proof of the company's mining licence, from this interview, and the following questions remained:

- Proof of a successful environmental application.
 - Proof of an approved mining licence.
 - Confirmation of stakeholders opposing the mine's opening.
- Platinum Bushvelder* reached out to the Limpopo Department of Mineral Resources and Energy (DMRE) for answers but had not received a response at the time of going to print. We further reached out to another CEO listed on the Arengo207 website. Telephonically, the CEO did not deny his position when addressed as such. Platinum Bushvelder asked the CEO for his email address to which we could send our media inquiry, however, after sending the email, the CEO responded the following day and informed us that he was no longer the CEO of Arengo297. We inquired whether he could assist us with the COO's contact details, which he could not...

SON ARRESTED FOR BRUTAL MURDER OF FATHER

Amandelbult – The Northam police are in the midst of an investigation into the tragic murder of Mr. Frank Alfred Donaldson. His devastated wife found him in an appalling state at their residence within the Tumela village of the Amandelbult Complex. In an immediate response, she notified emergency services and the police, who formally declared Mr. Donaldson deceased at the location of the crime.

Limpopo's provincial media relations commander, colonel Malesela Ledwaba, shared that the fatal incident took place on Wednesday, 26 July 2023, at roughly 15:50.

"The accused, Alfred Donaldson, has been taken into custody for allegedly murdering his father, Frank Alfred Donaldson," colonel Ledwaba announced. "Frank was subjected to numerous stab wounds, leading to extensive injuries."

Reports suggest that Alfred had been residing with his father and stepmother at the time of the incident.

"Following the episode, the suspect purportedly absconded from the crime site, driving away in his stepmother's vehicle. He is also believed to have taken her bank card," Ledwaba continued.

On 27 July, Alfred Donaldson was apprehended and later made his first court appearance on 31 July. Currently, he is detained and his case has been deferred until Monday 7 August for a formal bail hearing.

The investigation is ongoing.

The Ways of Life and Death [VERSE 1-4]
14 The wise woman builds her house,
But the foolish pulls it down with her hands.
2 He who walks in his uprightness fears the Lord,
But he who is perverse in his ways despises Him.
3 In the mouth of a fool is a rod of pride,
But the lips of the wise will preserve them.

Have your say / Sê jou sê

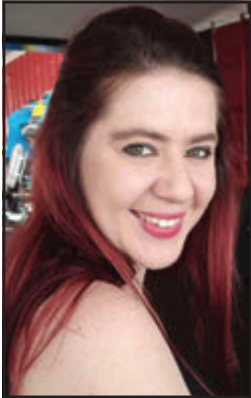

Do you like sushi?

Sushi, which used to be favoured only by those with an adventurous palette, has gradually gained popularity in South Africa. The Japanese dish is prepared with vinegared rice, usually with some sugar and salt, and accompanied by a variety of ingredients, such as seafood — often raw — and vegetables. However, some remain sceptical, especially when it comes to eating raw fish. With that said, do you tuck in at the opportunity of having sushi?

No, I don't like sushi; it is raw. I have seen it being prepared. After preparing it one needs to wash their hands with soap and sanitise their hands as well.

Catherine Nthalla

Yes, I like sushi! My family also enjoys the cuisine!
