HEARTBREAK at the Graves of Thabazimbi's Youngest

Family's plea for respect

A heartbreaking scene: litter and vandalism desecrate these children's resting place.

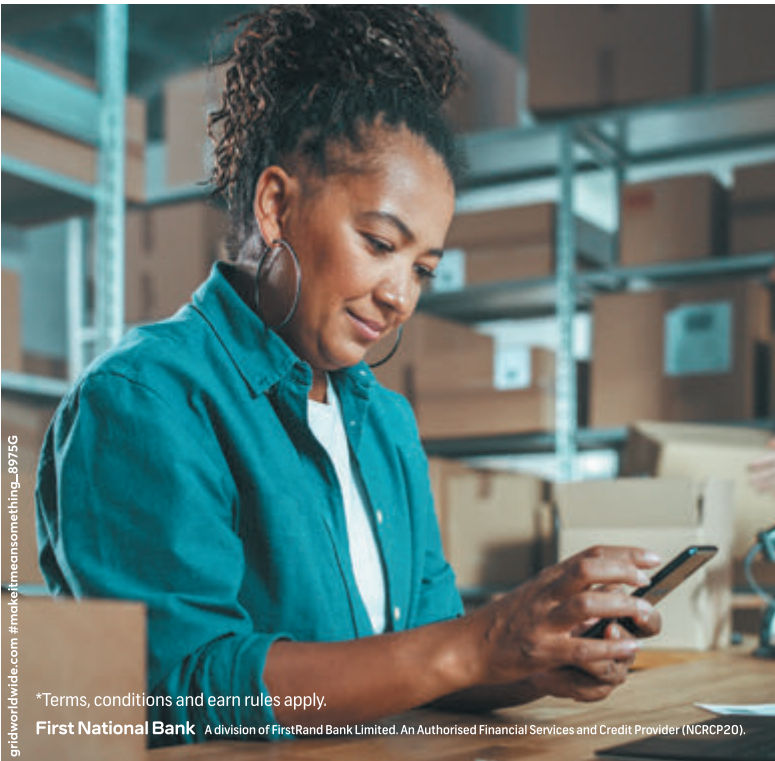

Thabazimbi – During a visit to Thabazimbi Cemetery, Ashley Minnaar and her husband were faced with the disheartening reality that their young daughter's grave, and the surrounding burial grounds, are vandalised and littered with refuse. "Our child passed away in 2020, and from the beginning, we've had to fight for the cemetery to be kept clean," Ashley shared. Despite initial cleanup efforts by the Thabazimbi Local Municipality, issues have persisted, and the area has become a frequent gathering spot for beggars and individuals abusing substances. In a video they recorded on Wednesday, 30 October 2024, Ashley detailed the upsetting scene. "We've often found people standing around, drinking and leaving beer bottles and cans behind. I've even come across people injecting drugs near her grave." For Ashley and other grieving families, it is a painful reality. "It's not only on my child's grave but on other children's graves too. It's inhumane and unacceptable." The family has reported the issue repeatedly, calling on the municipality to take lasting action. Unfortunately, four years later, the conditions remain distressingly similar to the day they laid their daughter to rest. "I felt anger and sadness together," Ashley explained. "It's a mix of emotions that I cannot fully explain. There's just no respect for a grave, especially a child's grave." For her, visiting her daughter's grave, who was stillborn after her heart stopped beating a week before birth, is an important ritual that keeps her memory alive. "It means so much to me and my husband to visit her grave. We didn't have her for long, but going there keeps her alive in our hearts."

* The Thabazimbi Local Municipality has promised action. In a statement to our newspaper, on 30 October 2024, the municipality acknowledged the family's concerns and assured that cleanup efforts would be conducted by their parks department. "We understand how important it is to maintain a clean and respectful environment in a cemetery, and we appreciate your diligence in bringing this issue to our attention," they stated. "We would also like to make an appeal to our community members to respect and stop vandalising municipal property."

THABAZIMBI FAMILY SEEKS JUSTICE AFTER BRUTAL ATTACK AT LOCAL RESTAURANT

Thabazimbi – The Van Der Walt family is seeking justice and grappling with unanswered questions following a vicious assault that left 32-year-old Leon van der Walt hospitalised. He is now recuperating at home.

The attack occurred on Tuesday, 24 September 2024, as Leon, a waiter at Koolstoof Restaurant, wrapped up his shift. After locking the restaurant and setting the alarm, Leon spotted a man and a woman lingering at an outside table. Leon politely asked them to leave, warning them that the alarm would go off if they stayed. But his request was met with rage — Leon was violently attacked, knocked unconscious, and left lying on the ground. Shockingly, his attacker then returned to his seat as if nothing had happened. When Leon failed to regain consciousness, the assailant reportedly loaded him into Leon's own car, drove him to a secluded spot on 8th Avenue, and abandoned him. Nearly an hour later, at around 22:35, a passerby discovered Leon. Now at home, Leon faces a difficult recovery with draining headaches and brain swelling.

Leon van der Walt

The ordeal took a legal turn three days later when police arrested the suspect at his workplace on Friday, 27 September 2024. But in a shocking twist, he was released on bail after his first court appearance.

On Tuesday, 29 October 2024, a gathering of close friends, family, and supporters, including Koolstoof owner Laurie Venter and family friend Christo Kruger, stood beside the Van Der Walt family at the Thabazimbi Magistrate's Court, presenting evidence to support their case. The family expressed heartfelt gratitude for the unwavering support from the community during this challenging time.

"We're holding on for good news after all this devastation," shared Monique van der Walt, Leon's wife, as they await his upcoming neurologist appointment in Polokwane. Leon, the family's main provider, faces an uncertain journey as they cling to hope for justice and healing. The family remains steadfast, urging the court to weigh the seriousness of Leon's injuries and the life-changing impact this attack has had on their lives.

EPHESIANS 2

By Grace Through Faith
2 And you He made alive, who were dead in trespasses and sins, 2 in which you once walked according to the [a]course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit who now works in the sons of disobedience, 3 among whom also we all once conducted ourselves in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, just as the others.
4 But God, who is rich in mercy, because of His great love with which He loved us, 5 even when we were dead in trespasses, made us alive together with Christ (by grace you have been saved), 6 and raised us up together, and made us sit together in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, 7 that in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us in Christ Jesus.

NEW KING JAMES VERSION (NKJV)

HAVE YOUR SAY

Do you think mob justice is justice served?

Mob justice remains a controversial issue in South Africa, where communities sometimes take the law into their own hands. However, these incidents rarely result in arrests, raising questions about justice and accountability. On that note, do you think people use mob justice to cover up murder? (Because there are almost never arrests with mob justice.)

No, mob justice is not true justice. Also known as vigilantism or lynching, it's a form of extrajudicial punishment where groups take the law into their own hands, often resorting to violent means without due process or legal authority. This approach bypasses the justice system entirely, undermining the rule of law and fairness. Abueng Evelyn Seabi, Thabazimbi

No, the community should not take the law into their own hands. Crime must be addressed by peace officers, such as the police. The accused should go through proper legal procedures, be brought before the court, and, if found guilty, receive a sentence that includes imprisonment as appropriate. Only through this process can justice truly be served. Danie Naude, Thabazimbi

FUN FACT

Did you know?

In 1895, Wilhelm Conrad Röntgen, a German physicist, stumbled upon a scientific marvel: X-rays. While working with cathode rays, he noticed an eerie glow on a nearby screen, despite the lab being pitch-dark. Curious, Röntgen placed his hand in the beam's path and was astounded to see his bones! Dubbed "X-rays" for their mysterious nature, this discovery revolutionised medicine by allowing doctors to look inside the body without surgery. Röntgen's "accident" earned him the first Nobel Prize in Physics and forever changed our view of the world — literally!
