Beware the donkeys on the road!

[letter to the editor]

I am writing to highlight a pressing issue affecting our community: the tragic fate of donkeys along the road between Thabazimbi and Northam. Every day, these poor animals – including pregnant jennies and foals – are being struck by cars and trucks.

This not only endangers the animals but poses serious risks to motorists as well. Disturbingly, I've heard that certain individuals may be instructed to shoot donkeys to prevent accidents, though I cannot confirm this. There are also whispers of poisoning, which is equally concerning. Years ago, a local company ran a system where stray donkeys were kept in a fenced area for two weeks, giving owners time to reclaim them. After that, unclaimed donkeys were reportedly sent to a lion farm. Sadly, it seems this initiative has long since ceased. Even more unsettling are claims that these donkeys are transported to Lesotho in December, where they may be slaughtered for meat and skins. If this is true, it represents a grotesque act of animal cruelty.

We, as a community, must act! Can we reinstate the old system or find a better solution? Perhaps we can work with sanctuaries or advocate for more humane measures to keep the donkeys off the roads.

I urge fellow residents to come together and help end this cruelty. Our community is stronger when we stand for compassion and safety for all.

Sincerely,
Thabazimbi Resident

OVERSIGHT VISIT IN THABAZIMBI

MEC Violet Mathye, accompanied by stakeholders and community members, during the oversight visit to the Thabazimbi Driving and Licensing Testing Centre.

Thabazimbi – Limpopo MEC for Transport and Community Safety, Violet Mathye, together with the head of department Stephen Matjena, conducted an oversight visit at the Thabazimbi Driving and Licensing Testing Centre (DLTC) on Tuesday, 26 November 2024.

This service delivery enhancement campaign aimed to assess the progress made in improving law enforcement, licensing, and registration services in the area. During the visit, MEC Mathye and Matjena met with various stakeholders and community representatives to discuss the improvements and challenges faced by the DLTC. Significant strides have been made since the Provincial government's intervention, leading to noticeable enhancements in the efficiency and effectiveness of these critical services.

RED ONS DORP

John Steenhuisen, minister of Agriculture and federal leader of the Democratic Alliance, addressed the community during his visit to Thabazimbi.

Thabazimbi – On Saturday 23 November 2024, John Steenhuisen, the DA leader and minister of Agriculture, visited Thabazimbi and surrounding areas. He led the campaign 'Red Ons Dorp,' engaging with the community and addressing key agricultural issues impacting the region. Platinum Bushvelder had the privilege of sitting down for an interview with John Steenhuisen to discuss some of the critical challenges faced by the agricultural sector and his vision for the future.

Q1: What are the biggest challenges the agricultural sector in the Thabazimbi area is facing, and how do you plan to address them?

"The people are struggling with water, which is a huge problem in the area. Another issue is the application for mining licences, which pose a significant risk to both conservation areas and farmland. It's crucial that we preserve agricultural land and these conservation areas. We also face challenges with droughts and natural disasters, which are affecting farmers. Additionally, farmers need substantial support with accessing capital, particularly patient capital that helps them expand their operations and become more successful. Lastly, municipal infrastructure — like poor roads — hinders the ability to get products to markets and limits the tourism industry's growth. If the town isn't equipped to attract tourists to local game farms, the whole economy suffers."

Q2: How is the government supporting small-scale and emerging farmers in terms of training and access to markets and financing?

"We run a number of initiatives to support emerging farmers. At the lower end, we have the Pezie Presidential Stimulus initiatives, which provide vouchers for small-scale farmers to access essential inputs like fertilisers. For larger farmers, we offer blended finance schemes, where funds from the private sector, the Land Bank, and the department are pooled, giving farmers access to capital. The Land Bank, now back on its feet, provides crucial finance. Furthermore, the Comprehensive Agricultural Support Programme (CASP) helps by providing farmers with inputs like fertilisers, tractors, seeds, and feed. We also run the Ilima/Letsema programme to offer additional services. Unfortunately, we are limited by budget constraints when it comes to expanding our extension officer network, but we continue to seek innovative ways to reach more farmers."

Q3: What are your thoughts on the impact of climate change on agriculture, and what steps are being taken to help farmers adapt?

"Climate change is a significant problem in South Africa. This year alone, we've seen severe droughts, black frost, fires, and flooding. We need to help farmers adapt to these challenges by enabling new techniques and crops that are more resilient to climate change. We've introduced the Agro Energy Fund, in collaboration with the Land Bank, to provide farmers with capital to switch to alternative energy sources, helping them move off the grid. Education is crucial here — smaller subsistence farmers are hit hardest by climate change, as they rely on their crops for survival. It's essential that we help them build resilience, adapt their methods, and promote sustainable farming practices. Regenerative farming, for example, works with nature to restore soil health and improve yields while reducing environmental impact."

Q4: What is your message to young people who are interested in pursuing a career in agriculture?

"We need young people to join the agricultural sector. The average age of our farmers is rising, and for many years, the debate over land expropriation without compensation discouraged young people from considering agriculture as a career. That is now behind us, and there are immense opportunities in this sector, especially as we look towards increasing food security in South Africa. We need young farmers to take over as older farmers retire. There is also a great need for veterinarians, with a significant shortage in the public sector, particularly in animal disease control. We've opened a new campus for veterinarians outside Onderstepoort, and we're collaborating with universities to send more graduates into this field. The agricultural sector offers numerous career opportunities, and it's vital that we encourage young people to join."

TEKORT AAN VEILIGHEIDS- EN PLEEGOUERS IN THABAZIMBI

'n Oproep tot aksie

Thabazimbi – Solidariteit Helpende Hand
het onlangs in gesprek met die SAVF in Thabazimbi vasgestel dat daar 'n groot tekort aan goedgekeurde veiligheids- en pleegouers in die dorp is. Dit veroorsaak dat kinders wat dringend sorg en sekuriteit benodig nie altyd in 'n veilige geborge omgewing geplaas kan word nie, en dit vererger hul trauma en onsekerheid.

Om hierdie tekort uit te wis en die nood van die kinders te verlig, wil Solidariteit Helpende Hand in samewerking met die SAVF Thabazimbi 'n bewusmakingsveldtog in die Thabazimbi-gemeenskap loods. Die is bewus daarvan dat die gemeenskap dikwels nie voldoende inligting het oor wat dit behels om 'n pleeg- of veiligheidsouer te wees nie. Ons doel is om die gemeenskap te bemagtig met kennis en 'n beter begrip van hoe hulle 'n veilige toevlug kan bied aan kinders in nood.

Kinders wat uit ouerlike sorg verwyder word, het dikwels ernstige trauma beleef weens fisieke, seksuele en emosionele mishandeling, verwaarloosing, gesinskonflik en geweld, ouers se alkohol- en dwelmmisbruik en onstabiele gesinsomstandighede. Die verwydering van 'n kind onder die ouderdom van 18 is reeds 'n uiters traumatiese proses, maar wanneer daar onvoldoende veiligheids- en pleegouers beskikbaar is, word die trauma soveel erger. SAVF Thabazimbi se kantoorbestuurder, is dit noodsaaklik om aan die kinders 'n veilige en liefdevolle omgewing te bied om die negatiewe impak van so 'n verwydering te verminder.

Daar is veral 'n groot behoefte aan goedgekeurde veiligheidsouers en naweekouers vir kinders wat in die koshuis geplaas is. 'n Plek van veiligheid bied korttermynverblyf vir kinders terwyl Kinderhofondersoeke afgehandel word, gewoonlik oor 'n tydperk van minder as ses maande. As gevolg van 'n tekort aan goedgekeurde pleegouers, kan hierdie tydperk egter verleng word en dit is nie in die beste belang van die kind nie.

Gesinne wat as veiligheidsouers wil optree, moet vooraf goedgekeur word en bereid wees om op kort kennisgewing 'n veilige hawe aan kinders te bied. Wanneer 'n kind in lewensgevaar verkeer, moet die verwydering onmiddellik geskied, en 'n goedgekeurde veiligheidsplek is noodsaaklik vir hul beskerming.

In die lig van die toenemende aantal kinders in ons gemeenskap wat pleegsorg benodig, doen ons 'n dringende beroep op die inwoners van Thabazimbi om hul harte en huise oop te maak vir hierdie kwesbare kinders. Deur 'n veilige, liefdevolle huis te bied, kan jy as pleeg-, veiligheids- of naweekouer 'n reuse verskil maak in 'n kind se lewe en 'n fondament vir 'n beter toekoms skep. Jou liefde kan die grootste geskenk van hierdie Kerseisoen wees.

Gemeenskapslede wat belangstel om meer oor pleeg- of veiligheidsouerskap te leer, kan met die SAVF Thabazimbi in verbinding tree.

Help pleegouers en veiligheidsoeurs om financieel te oorleef

Wanneer kinders uit ouerlike sorg verwyder moet word, gaan dit met 'n groot mate van trauma gepaard. Die ontwrigting en trauma wat 'n kind as gevolg van ouerlike onstabieliteit ervaar, is intens en die kind word in baie gevalle van sy of haar kinderlike onskuld ontnem. Die kind se helingsproses om weer stabiliteit en sekuriteit te kan ervaar, is dikwels lank en moeisam en daarom is intensiewe terapie in die meeste gevalle noodsaaklik.

Agterstande kom ook dikwels voor en hierdie kinders benodig in baie gevalle ekstra ondersteuning soos arbeidsterapie en spraakterapie. Hierdie tipe dienste bring uiteraard ekstra uitgewas mee en plaas finansiële druk op pleegouers.

Solidariteit Helpende Hand en SAVF
Thabazimbi wil graag mense wat 'n hart het vir kinders in moeilike omstandighede, maar wat nie noodwendig in die posisie is om as pleegouers of veiligheidsouers op te tree nie, aanmoedig om finansiële tot hierdie dienste by te dra ten einde te verseker dat ons dorp se "stukkende" kinders weer heel word.

noodsaaklike diens wil maak, kontak die

Vier Kersfees saam met Thabazimbi Homeless Shelter

Thabazimbi – Die feestyd is om die draai en Thabazimbi Homeless Shelter beplan weer vanjaar 'n spesiale Kersete vir diegene wat alleen is om sukkel om kos op die tafel te sit. Die gemeenskap word uitgenooi om saam te kom kuier op 25 Desember vanaf 12:00 tot 14:00. 'n Heilsame ete sal voorgesit word by die shelter, of jy kan 'n wegneemete bespreek om saam met jou gesin te geniet.

"Ons vra dat mense vooraf bespreek sodat ons kan weet hoeveel kos om voor te berei," sê Beverly Spira Kuhn, stigter en raadslid van die Thabazimbi Homeless Shelter. "Stuur net 'n WhatsApp met die name, ouderdomme en telefoonnummers na 078 403 1813 om jou plek te verseker."

Fondse benodig vir gemeenskapsprojek

Elke jaar bedien die Thabazimbi Homeless Shelter, saam met die hulp van die NG Kerk, 'n groot Kersete vir die gemeenskap. Verlede jaar het hulle meer as 245 mense gevoed en vanjaar word selfs meer mense verwag. Mense wat graag betrokke wil raak, kan 'n bydrae maak deur Beverly te kontak op WhatsApp, waarna 'n lysie van benodighede gestuur sal word.

"Ons waardeer enige finansiële bydrae om hierdie belangrike gebeurtenis moontlik te maak. Mense kan hul bydrae inbetaal met die verwysing 'Kersete'," voeg Kuhn by.

Dankbaarheid teenoor die gemeenskap

Die Thabazimbi Homeless Shelter wil ook graag hul opregte dank uitspreek teenoor diegene wat hulle gereeld ondersteun. "Ons waardeer dit regtig baie. Hierdie is moeilike tye, en sonder die ondersteuning van die gemeenskap sou ons nie ons werk kon doen nie," sê Kuhn.

Vir meer inligting of om 'n bydrae te maak, kontak Beverly Spira Kuhn via WhatsApp by 078 403 1813.

Setaria shines bright with tallest Christmas tree

The moment of triumph: What an incredible achievement, bringing Africa's tallest Christmas tree to life!

Setaria – On Saturday 30 November 2024, Setaria Recreation Club will become the heart of holiday magic as Northam Platinum unveils a towering masterpiece — the tallest Christmas tree in all of Africa! Standing at an awe-inspiring 43 meters, this glittering symbol of festive cheer is adorned with 17,500 LED lights, making it a true beacon of hope and joy for the community. The excitement begins at 09:00, as the air fills with laughter and anticipation. Children will be thrilled as Santa Claus himself arrives, spreading holiday cheer and handing out treat packs. A Christmas market brimming with beautiful gifts and delicious food stalls will delight visitors, offering a perfect start to the festive season. But the fun doesn't stop there! A variety of nostalgic games will bring out the competitive spirit and laughter in everyone:

- Tug of war
- Three-legged race
- Sack race
- Egg toss
- Wheelbarrow races
- Water bucket challenges
- Foam and slippery ground obstacle courses
- Golf chipping to a pin challenges
- Card and ground games

Adding a touch of excitement, Northam Platinum's Fire and Rescue team will present a dramatic foam demonstration, showcasing their skill and bravery. Then, as the sun begins to set, the moment everyone has been waiting for will arrive: at 19:00, the lights of the magnificent Christmas tree will be switched on, casting a magical glow over the entire event. Each of the 70 strings of LED lights — 250 lights per string — has been carefully placed on a spiral pole, which is firmly anchored to iron poles at the base. Together, the lights stretch an incredible 3.5 kilometres if connected end to end, lighting up the night sky like a river of stars. But the true magic lies in the heart and soul behind this extraordinary feat. Tanya Greyling, a Northam Platinum housing electrician, is the visionary who turned this dream into reality. Inspired by a social media post about the Beacon of Hope in Hartbeespoort, which stood at 38 meters, Tanya had a spark of inspiration: "Why not break that record right here?" she said. And with that, the project began. Tanya approached the mine manager, gained permission, and started the process early in 2024. "We purchased the lights at the start of the year, and by June, we were cable-tying them securely," Tanya recalls. "On 18 November, we attached the lights to the pole and lifted it into place, and by the next day, we tested them. It was an emotional moment when I saw it all come together." Tanya's dedication reflects Northam Platinum's motto: "You see it, you own it." "I saw the vision, I believed in it, and now it's here — Africa's tallest Christmas tree," she says, her voice filled with pride and joy. This holiday celebration is more than just an event; it's a testament to the power of vision, determination, and community spirit. The towering tree will not only light up the night but will also warm the hearts of all who witness it — a true symbol of hope, joy, and the holiday spirit. Plan Sparks Fears of Industry Collapse

SA – The Department of Forestry, Fisheries and the Environment (DFFE) has rolled out a Voluntary Surrender Programme for lion bones and derivatives, igniting a fierce national debate. While some see this as a necessary move to align South Africa's conservation practices with global standards, others warn it could devastate the captive lion industry, with long-lasting consequences for lion populations and livelihoods.

Voluntary Surrender Programme

Under the new initiative, the DFFE will oversee a programme allowing facilities to legally dispose of lion bone stockpiles. Facilities that opt in must:

- Sterilise their lions to prevent further breeding.
- Maintain high welfare standards for lions in their care.
- Cease acquiring or accepting new captive lions.
- Obtain the necessary Threatened and Protected Species (TOPS) permits.

Minister Dr. Dion George stated, “This programme balances sustainable use with the need to address ethical and conservation concerns while safeguarding jobs for vulnerable individuals.”

A Divisive Proposal

Critics of the programme argue that it could dismantle the already struggling captive lion industry, potentially leading to unintended consequences. Without the industry, they claim, captive lions may face neglect or abandonment, while local communities reliant on lion breeding could suffer severe economic hardship.

Proponents, including conservationists and animal rights groups, contend that the captive lion industry damages South Africa's global reputation and ethical standing. They argue that the surrender programme offers a pathway to phase out an unsustainable and controversial practice while addressing animal welfare concerns.

Industry Perspectives

Those in the lion breeding sector warn that the collapse of the industry could result in:

- Increased pressure on wild lion populations due to illegal poaching.
- The loss of thousands of jobs in rural communities.
- A spike in unregulated activity, as abandoned lions or facilities may fall prey to black-market operations.

Next Steps

The DFFE has stressed that participation in the programme is voluntary and that all information provided will remain confidential. Registration does not bind participants to the programme but allows them to explore exit options. For more details or to register, visit: https://www.dffe.gov.za/sites/default/files/legislations/nema_lionbonestockpilesurrender_g51551gn5539.pdf

A Crossroads for Conservation

South Africa's captive lion industry faces a pivotal moment. The debate surrounding the Voluntary Surrender Programme underscores the nation's challenge of balancing ethical conservation, economic realities, and the welfare of its iconic wildlife and its people.

The Government’s Plan to ‘Protect’ Lions will Actually Kill Them!

[letter to the editor]

The future of South Africa's captive lion population is at risk, and I am deeply concerned about the so-called “Voluntary Surrender Programme” proposed by the Department of Forestry, Fisheries, and the Environment (DFFE).

As someone who has dedicated their life to the lion industry, I cannot stay silent while this ill-conceived plan threatens to wipe out both the industry and the lions it claims to protect.

The Department uses polished terms like “voluntary surrender” and “anonymity,” but beneath the surface lies a formula for disaster. If this programme proceeds, it will trigger the collapse of South Africa's captive lion industry. And make no mistake—when the industry falls, so do the lions.

Let's face reality. It's a romantic idea to think lions should roam free and breed naturally, but this isn't 6,000 years ago. Our country has cities, towns, farms, and infrastructure. Where do these so-called conservationists want lions to roam free? Are they suggesting that lions be restricted to a handful of parks like the Kruger National Park? That would simply concentrate poaching and illegal hunting, as poachers would know exactly where to find them.

In captivity, lions are cared for. They are fed, loved, treated for illnesses, and given proper attention. Yes, when older lions are humanely euthanised, some are used for trophy hunting, which generates significant international income for South Africa. This practice supports livelihoods, funds conservation efforts, and ensures humane treatment of animals at the end of their lives.

What the government is proposing will not only destroy a vital economic sector but also wipe out captive lions entirely. Labelling this initiative as an “ethical move to align with international standards” is laughable. It's not ethics; it's ignorance. The individuals behind this decision clearly do not understand the realities of lion care or the economic benefits this industry brings to South Africa.

I implore the DFFE to reconsider this catastrophic plan. South Africa deserves policies that support its people, its economy, and its wildlife — not policies that destroy all three.

Sincerely,
A Very Concerned Lion Industry Stakeholder

NEW KING JAMES VERSION (NKJV)

Have your say

Do you believe in life beyond Earth?

Are we alone, or could aliens really exist? With billions of stars and planets in the universe, many wonder if we're truly alone. From mysterious signals to the discovery of distant, Earth-like planets, science offers intriguing hints. Do you believe other forms of life exist out there, or are we unique?

No, I don't believe aliens exist — but I do think it's possible that life, even intelligent life, could exist elsewhere in the universe. The sheer immensity of the cosmos makes the search for extraterrestrial life extremely challenging, requiring immense time, effort, and resources. Unfortunately, humanity's impatience might hinder such efforts, as this kind of discovery demands unwavering dedication and patience above all else. Mmaabo Mogami, Thabazimbi

No, I don't believe aliens exist — at least not yet. While the question of life beyond Earth remains unanswered, there are reasons to think it's possible. Thousands of exoplanets have been discovered, some within the "habitable zone" where liquid water could exist. Discoveries like Enceladus' habitable ocean, evidence of a wetter early Mars, and potentially more habitable "super-Earths" add to the intrigue. Despite this, no conclusive evidence of extraterrestrial life has been found. If it does exist, it could range from simple microorganisms to advanced civilizations far beyond our comprehension. Until we have definitive proof, the existence of aliens remains an open question. Gideon van Dyk, Thabazimbi
