Thabazimbi by-elections:
RESULTS ANNOUNCED

Thabazimbi – The Electoral Commission of South Africa announced the peaceful and incident-free conclusion of the by-elections in Thabazimbi Local Municipality, Limpopo, held on December 3 and 4, 2024. The African National Congress (ANC) emerged as the overall winner, securing key wards across the municipality and solidifying its influence in the region.

The elections, conducted at 57 voting stations across 12 wards, involved over 450 electoral staff. Out of 51,399 registered voters, 19,812 participated, yielding a voter turnout of 38.55%, within the typical range for by-elections. The highest turnout was recorded in Ward 4 (48.95%), and the lowest in Ward 11 (18.72%).

A demographic breakdown showed balanced participation across genders and varying age groups, with the highest voting activity among individuals aged 30-49.

Drawing the curtain on 2024

From the editor's desk

As another year draws to a close and the rush to wrap up the last tasks winds down, I find myself reflecting on the journey that was 2024 — a year of both challenges and triumphs. In the newspaper industry, we are given a rare and humbling privilege: to stand alongside people in their most difficult moments and their most joyous celebrations. This year, our community has faced many losses, and my heart aches for the family and friends of those no longer with us. We honour their memories and the indelible marks they have left on our lives. Yet, amidst the sorrow, we have also witnessed incredible acts of kindness, courage, and resilience. Time and again, community members have stepped up to give their time, resources, and hearts to make a difference. To each of you who extended a helping hand, no matter how small your gesture might have seemed, you are the embodiment of hope and strength. Thank you for reminding us of the good that exists, even in the hardest of times.

On the broader stage, 2024 has brought its fair share of political and societal turbulence. While I am not deeply entrenched in politics, my focus remains on the impact of governance on our communities. My heartfelt plea is for the powers that be to prioritise sustainable water supply and essential services in the year ahead. Our people should not have to continually battle for survival. They deserve relief from these burdens so that hope can flourish and new opportunities can take root in their lives.

As I reflect on this past year, I am filled with gratitude. I thank our Heavenly Father for granting us the strength to face life's challenges, for blessing us with time spent with loved ones, and for opening doors to new opportunities, even in difficult times. His grace continues to guide and sustain us.

As we enter the festive season, I urge you to cherish your loved ones, create beautiful memories, and travel safely. This is a time to rest, reconnect, and recharge for the year ahead. We at Platinum Bushvelder are deeply grateful for your continued support and the trust you place in us to tell your stories. We look forward to reuniting with you in 2025, sharing your challenges, triumphs, and dreams for the future.

Please note that our final issue for 2024 will be published on Friday, 20 December. Our team will return on Monday, 13 January 2025, with our first issue of the new year scheduled for Friday, 17 January 2025.

May 2025 bring us all hope, unity, and endless possibilities. Until then, take care, stay safe, and thank you for allowing us to be a part of your lives.

Warm regards,
Myrtle

Sergeant Modubi: protecting families, defending the innocent

Thabazimbi – In the ongoing fight against gender-based violence (GBV), detective sergeant Mohlatlego Dennis Modubi, stationed at the family violence, child protection, and sexual offences (FCS) Unit in Thabazimbi, is dedicated to ensuring justice for survivors and safeguarding the most vulnerable members of society — children.

Born and raised in a Limpopo village under the care of his grandmother, sergeant Modubi developed a strong moral foundation from a young age. "Being raised among elders taught me values like respect, empathy, and humility — qualities that shape the way I approach my work," he shared.

Sergeant Modubi's career with SAPS began on 14 January 2008. After completing his basic training in Pretoria West, he has spent the past 16 years as a committed officer.

One of his standout cases involved securing a life imprisonment sentence for a 43-year-old man who raped his 11-year-old niece in December 2020. The heinous crime occurred in Rooibok Kraal in the Cumberland policing area.

Sergeant Modubi's message to the community is clear: "Take action. GBV destroys families and harms the innocent. Together, we can prevent lawlessness and create safer communities for everyone."

Detective sergeant Dennis Mudubi

Would you go on a trip to space if given the chance?

Would you blast off to space? If given the chance, would you strap in for a trip to space? With the rise of private companies like SpaceX and Blue Origin, space tourism is no longer a sci-fi dream. The first civilian crew orbited Earth in 2021, and suborbital trips lasting minutes are already a reality. While the price tag currently hovers in the hundreds of thousands, experts predict costs could drop drastically within a decade. So, would you float in zero gravity, or are you keeping your feet planted on Earth?

Yes, I'd definitely choose to go on a trip to space! The chance to explore the cosmos, witness awe-inspiring celestial views, and experience the thrill of weightlessness would be absolutely unforgettable. It's a once-in-a-lifetime adventure I wouldn't want to miss!

Gontse Mataboge, Regorogile

It's a no for me. Being claustrophobic, small spaces and I just don't mix — so a space trip is definitely out of the question. That said, I can imagine it would be an incredible experience for those who can handle it!

Monique van der Walt, Thabazimbi

FUN FACT

Did you know the Sun hums a tune we can't hear?
The giant ball of gas generates sound waves through its constant churning and bubbling plasma. These waves ripple through the Sun's interior, creating a symphony of vibrations. Scientists call it "solar music," but its frequencies are far too low for human ears. Using special instruments, astronomers translate these waves into sounds we can study, revealing secrets about the Sun's structure and activity. So next time you bask in sunlight, imagine the Sun serenading you — a melody just out of reach!

Nali Bali programme brings reading to Thabazimbi's youth

Thabazimbi – The Nali Bali programme, led by Mahlatse Albert Maruma, is making a significant impact on the children of Thabazimbi, Northam, and surrounding areas. The programme, which encourages a love for reading, aims to help children under 14 develop essential literacy skills. The Nali Bali team is working to address literacy challenges. By focusing on books with pictures and interactive guides, the programme helps children improve their reading skills and foster creativity. The initiative also focuses on using local languages to build a strong foundation before expanding to other subjects. The programme, which began in August 2024, takes place in homes, creches, and primary schools. While the Nali Bali programme is free, they are seeking support from organisations and sponsors to ensure its continuation. Donations of books are also needed to expand their reach.

For more information or to get involved, contact Mahlatse Maruma at m.maruma@nalibali.org or 082 953 3582.
