SHOULD WE KNOW?
The Sex Offenders Register Debate Heats Up...

South Africans are divided over the recent decision by the Minister of Justice and Constitutional Development, Hon. Mmamoloko Kubayi MP, to halt the publication of the National Register for Sex Offenders (NRSO). While the Information Regulator (Regulator) has welcomed this move, many law-abiding citizens are left questioning whether public safety should outweigh privacy laws.

The Department of Justice and Constitutional Development (DoJ&CD) announced on 1 March 2025 that the decision was made after considering confidentiality and disclosure provisions within the Sexual Offences and Related Matters Act. The Regulator fully supports this, emphasising that while gender-based violence and sexual crimes are a serious concern in South Africa, legal processes must be followed to ensure actions taken remain within the law.

A Question of Privacy vs. Public Safety

The NRSO was designed to protect vulnerable individuals — particularly children and people with disabilities — by restricting convicted sex offenders from working in environments where they could pose a threat. However, it was never meant to be a publicly accessible list.

The Regulator raised concerns about how the DoJ&CD would ensure compliance with the Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA) if the NRSO were to be made public. Under POPIA, individuals' personal data — no matter how controversial — must be processed lawfully. The Regulator is now preparing a submission for the Minister, outlining what must be addressed to align the publication of the NRSO with the law.

A Community in Debate

Many South Africans believe that making the register public is a necessary step in safeguarding communities. "We have a right to know if a convicted sex offender lives next door or teaches at our children's school," argues a concerned parent. Others caution that publicising the list could lead to vigilantism, wrongful targeting, or even infringe on offenders' rights after they have served their sentences.

With tensions high and safety concerns mounting, the debate rages on. Should the public have access to this information? Or does the law's protection of privacy extend even to those convicted of the most heinous crimes? What do you think?

HOLDING ONTO DRIVER'S LICENCE FOR A R1,500 BRIBE

This traffic cop's car is a familiar sight parked next to the road — but are they enforcing the law or exploiting it?

According to the driver, the officer left in a rush after he was tipped off by someone.

Thabazimbi – The R510 between Sandfontein, Northam, and Thabazimbi has long been a crucial transport route. A driver regularly using this route shared an unsettling experience.

On Friday, 18 February 2025, he was stopped by a traffic officer while en route to Thabazimbi. According to the driver, the officer had an aggressive attitude and falsely claimed that the vehicle was overloaded. "Refusing to discuss the matter, the officer confiscated my driver's licence and demanded a R1,500 bribe for its return", the driver said.

The driver contacted his employer. Recognising the severity of the situation, the driver's employer immediately contacted the police to report the extortion attempt. Reporting back to his employer on what happened next What happened next raises even greater concerns.

Shortly after the report was made, the same traffic officer returned, threw the driver's license at him, and remarked with an air of arrogance, "I hear you want to get me arrested. Here is your driver's license. Get out of here!" before driving off.

Who tipped off the corrupt officer?

The rapid change in the officer's behaviour begs the question: How did he know that the police had been called? Is it standard procedure for corrupt officials to be warned about complaints against them?

How deep does the corruption run?

Coincidentally — or perhaps not — the Thabazimbi Local Municipality issued a press release on 12 March 2025, announcing the temporary closure of the Thabazimbi Licensing Offices. The closure, which will last from Wednesday, 12 March to Monday, 17 March 2025, is due to an ongoing investigation by the Limpopo Department of Transport and Community Safety. According to officials, this step is necessary to ensure a comprehensive review of the system and to uphold the integrity of services.

Platinum Bushvelder reached out to the police for comment, who replied that they will look into the incident.

If you or someone you know has experienced a similar incident, we encourage you to come forward and report it.

VAN DER WALT FAMILY STANDS STRONG AS ASSAULT TRIAL NEARS

Thabazimbi – The long-awaited trial of André Hoffman, accused of the brutal assault on 32-year-old Leon van der Walt, has been postponed yet again. The case, originally scheduled for 7 March 2025, will now proceed on 9 April 2025 for plea and trial. The assault, which took place on 24 September 2024 at a restaurant where Leon worked as a waiter, left him unconscious and severely injured. His recovery has been slow and painful, with persistent medical challenges such as brain swelling and debilitating headaches.

Hoffman, who was granted bail at R500 in November 2024, has had multiple delays in his legal proceedings. His attorney previously requested a postponement due to financial constraints, as Hoffman faces another legal matter in February 2025. Now, after yet another delay, the Van Der Walt family must wait even longer for justice to take its course.

A community that cares

Despite the frustration and setbacks, the Van Der Walt family remains strong, bolstered by unwavering community support. Monique van der Walt, speaking on behalf of the family, expressed deep gratitude to those who have stood by them during this trying time.

"We want to extend our heartfelt thanks to Uncle Christo and Aunt Wendy for their continuous support at every court appearance. Their words of encouragement and emotional strength have carried us through the toughest days," Monique shared.

She also acknowledged Dr. Buys, who has been instrumental in Leon's recovery journey, and Amanda McDonald for her unwavering assistance. "To everyone who has kept us in their prayers, sent us messages, or simply offered a comforting hug, we appreciate you more than words can say."

Additionally, Leon's employer, Lethabo Projects, was praised for their understanding and support throughout this difficult period.

"A special thank you to our families for their support. Your love and strength mean the world to us," Monique added.

A long road ahead

While the family is eager for justice, they acknowledge that the legal process is slow and often frustrating. "We are holding onto hope," Monique stated. "This case means everything to us. It's been an incredibly rough journey, but we won't give up."

As the trial date approaches, the Van Der Walt family remains determined, leaning on the strength of their community and the resilience they have built over months of struggle.

For those who wish to assist the family with Leon's growing medical expenses, donations can be arranged by contacting Monique at 072 746 3282.

GRANDMOTHER’S LIFE CUT SHORT IN HIKING TRAGEDY

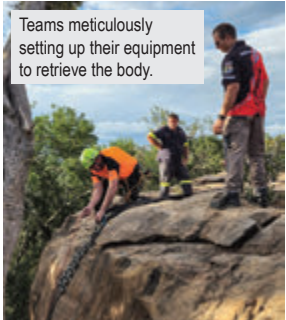

The mission continued into the night, highlighting the unwavering dedication of the rescuers.

A powerful display of teamwork as various rescue units working together in challenging conditions.

Teams meticulously setting up their equipment to retrieve the body.

A rescue worker being hoisted down with a cable, braving the rugged terrain to reach the fallen hiker.

Thabazimbi – On Sunday, 9 March 2025, at approximately 14:15, Thaba Fire and Rescue (TFR) received an urgent call for assistance in a mountain rescue operation, about 165km from Thabazimbi on the way to Marken.

Demonstrating their unwavering commitment to saving lives, the TFR team and Wildmed Emergency Services swiftly loaded their specialised equipment within 30 minutes and arrived on the scene at 16:30.

Tragically, upon arrival, responders confirmed that the patient — a woman who had been hiking with her daughter and granddaughter — was deceased due to injuries sustained from a fall. Despite the heartbreaking outcome, the rescue teams worked diligently to recover her body, completing the operation by 20:00. The TFR and Wildmed Emergency Services teams returned to Thabazimbi at 22h40.

The woman had been hiking along a narrow ledge in the mountains when she slipped and fell. Her daughter quickly contacted emergency services, leading to the swift mobilisation of multiple rescue teams. Initial attempts to conduct an airlift were hindered by the difficult terrain, forcing the teams to deploy rope rescue techniques instead.

The successful recovery mission was made possible by the coordinated efforts of multiple agencies: Thaba Fire and Rescue, Wildmed Emergency Services, EMS Waterberg, Mogalakwena Search and Rescue, Lephalale SAPS, as well as local community members. This response effort once again highlights the dedication of Thaba Fire and Rescue, proving that their assistance extends far beyond Thabazimbi whenever and wherever they are needed. A heartfelt thank you to Wildmed Emergency Services for generously providing their equipment — your support is truly appreciated! Pierre Loots, CEO of Thaba Fire and Rescue, expressed his condolences: “Our hearts go out to the family of the deceased. It’s never easy facing a tragedy like this, but we take comfort in knowing that we could bring her home with dignity. This rescue effort was a testament to teamwork, dedication, and the resilience of our emergency responders.”

The Value of Wisdom

2 My son, if you receive my words,
And treasure my commands within you,
2 So that you incline your ear to wisdom,
And apply your heart to understanding;
3 Yes, if you cry out for discernment,
And lift up your voice for understanding,
4 If you seek her as silver,
And search for her as for hidden treasures;
5 Then you will understand the fear of the Lord,
And find the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord gives wisdom;
From His mouth come knowledge and understanding;
7 He stores up sound wisdom for the upright;
He is a shield to those who walk uprightly;
8 He guards the paths of justice,
And preserves the way of His saints.
9 Then you will understand righteousness and justice,
Equity and every good path.

FUN FACT

Did you know?

Before ketchup became a burger’s best friend, it was once sold as medicine! In the 1830s, American physician Dr. John Cook Bennett promoted tomato-based ketchup as a cure for indigestion, diarrhoea, and even jaundice. He claimed tomatoes had powerful health benefits and even turned ketchup into pill form. The “miracle cure” gained popularity — until sceptics exposed the lack of scientific proof. By the mid-19th century, ketchup had lost its medicinal status but gained fame as a beloved condiment. So next time you squeeze that bottle, remember — it was once a doctor’s prescription!

Mixing Concrete and Commitment AFRI-READYMIX POWERS HFM

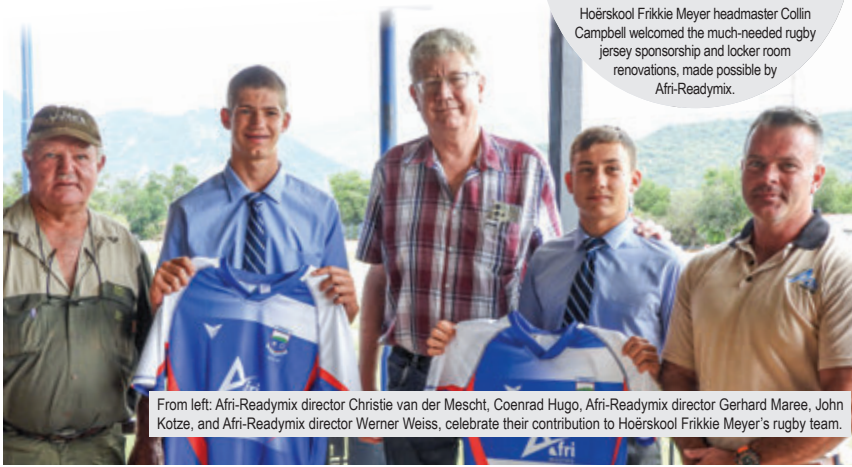

Thabazimbi – When Hoërskool Frikkie Meyer's (HFM) rugby team faced a shortage of jerseys, it wasn't just an inconvenience — it was a challenge that forced players to swap jerseys between matches. But thanks to a generous sponsorship from Afri-Readymix, that problem is now a thing of the past. On Wednesday, 5 March 2025, Afri-Readymix officially handed over brand-new rugby jerseys to the school, ensuring that every player on the team is kitted out and ready for action. But their generosity didn't stop there. Recognising the need for improved sports facilities, Afri-Readymix also contributed to the renovation of the school's locker rooms, helping to create a space that players can be proud of. Hoërskool Frikkie Meyer's headmaster, Collin Campbell, expressed his gratitude for the company's support, emphasising how much of a difference the new jerseys and upgraded facilities will make for the school's rugby programme. The sponsorship is just one of Afri-Readymix's recent milestones. The company, known for its high-quality concrete solutions, has also expanded its footprint by opening a plant in Northam, Limpopo. Afri-Readymix directors Christie van der Mescht, Gerhard Maree, and Werner Weiss were present at the handover. Their commitment to community development and sports upliftment is evident in their actions, making a real impact where it's needed most.

Voortrekkers bederf met melkert en omgee!

Die deelnemers het elke happie van die heerlike melkert geniet – 'n ware fees vir die smaakknoppies!

Van links: Karin Naudé (penningmeester, Ysterberg Voortrekkers), Gie Prinsloo (kantoor dame, Laerskool Thabazimbi), Elize Gildenhuys (kantoor dame, Laerskool Thabazimbi), en Danie Naudé (veldkornleier, Ysterberg Voortrekkers).

Thabazimbi – Nasionale Melkertdag op 27 Februarie 2025 was nie net 'n soet bederf nie, maar ook 'n geleentheid vir diensbaarheid – iets wat die Ysterberg Voortrekkers jaarliks met trots uitleef. Vanjaar het hulle besluit om die Thabazimbi Homeless Shelter, die SASSA-huis en Laerskool Thabazimbi te bederf met heerlike melkert en 'n bietjie ekstra omgee. “Dit is vir ons as Voortrekkers 'n eer en voorreg om ons gemeenskap te dien, al is dit net deur iets so eenvoudig soos 'n stukkie melkert en 'n glimlag,” sê Danie Naudé, veldkornleier van die Ysterberg Voortrekkers. Die Voortrekkers is meer as net 'n kultuurbeweging – hulle toerus die jeug om as moderne Afrikaners, positiewe burgers en konsekwente Christene hul roeping deur diensbaarheid uit te leef. Hierdie projek is 'n pragtige bewys daarvan. Die organisasie het spesiale dank uitgespreek aan ouers, offisiere en heemraadslede wat gehelp het om hierdie dag moontlik te maak, asook aan elke persoon wat 'n melkert geskenk of hand bygesit het. “Sonder julle sou hierdie dag nie moontlik gewees het nie. Dankie vir julle harde werk en groot harte!”

It's More Than Just Food.
It's Love in Every Bite.

Nothing matters more,
than more time together

We spend only a portion of our lives with our dogs,
but they spend their whole lives with us.

To you, they're part of your life.
To them, you are their life.

They wait for you by the door, every single day, tail wagging, eyes shining with love. They don't count the hours you're gone—they just know that when you come home, their world is whole again.

Spend it now. While the tail still wags, while the paws still dance, while they still look at you like you're the best part of their world—because you are.
