Regorogile/ Thabazimbi – Raw sewage running through the streets. Children walking to school next to human waste. Families trying to cook, clean, and live while surrounded by an unbearable stench. This is the daily reality for many residents in Regorogile. For some, the sewage has been flowing past their homes since April. Business owners say it's driving customers away. Parents fear for their children's health.

The municipality has long urged residents not to dump foreign objects into drains — a valid call — but the issue runs deeper. Ageing infrastructure and insufficient resources have left parts of the system collapsing. With summer approaching, residents fear the stench and risk of disease will worsen.

MTE's Mining & Industrial Expo hits Winterveld Rec Club on 31 July 2025!

Mining and Technical Exhibitions (MTE) will host its high-impact mining and industrial expo focused on platinum and chrome tech solutions in Limpopo on 31 July at the Winterveld Rec Club from 13:00 to 17:00.

Because the Steelport area is rich in platinum and chrome reserves, this expo has been customised specifically for these minerals. Vanadium is yet another resource recently discovered in the area, and will no doubt be part of discussions at the expo. MTE has sourced suppliers to exhibit services, tech innovations and solutions specifically relevant for these minerals.

Streets: Regorogile's Sewage Nightmare

Regorogile/ Thabazimbi – It's been described as unbearable. Raw sewage flowing down residential streets, past homes, shops, and schools — not for hours or days, but in some areas, for months.

And this is no exaggeration. In parts of Regorogile, children are walking to school alongside running sewage. Residents are cooking meals, caring for babies, and trying to live normal lives — all while surrounded by the stench of human waste.

"This isn't just an inconvenience. It's a health crisis," said one resident, who asked to remain anonymous. "We've had sewage running past our house since April. You can't eat, you can't open windows, and we're constantly sick with diarrhoea. No one should have to live like this."

A local business owner echoed the frustration. "No one wants to eat here because of the smell. I've been struggling with this same blocked drain for two years. I even considered using my own money to lay pipes just to redirect the mess. It would cost less than what's spent hiring honey suckers every time it overflows."

The sewage crisis in Regorogile is not new. Ageing infrastructure, limited municipal resources, and community misuse of the system have all contributed to the growing problem. The Thabazimbi Local Municipality has repeatedly urged residents not to dispose of foreign objects into drains — a plea worth repeating. But while improper waste disposal certainly contributes to blockages, it's only one piece of the puzzle.

The consequences are serious. Beyond the foul smell and discomfort, residents are facing real health risks. Open sewage attracts flies and vermin, spreads waterborne diseases, and contaminates the very areas where food is prepared and consumed. Summer is around the corner. Higher temperatures will only worsen the stench — and with it, the health hazard.

It's clear that a long-term solution is urgently needed.

“Dis nie die einde van die wêreld nie... maar komaan!”

[skrywe aan die redakteur]
Thabazimbi – Ná 'n kragonderbreking wat meer as 'n dag geduur het, het 'n ontstelde inwoner van Thabazimbi haar hart oopgemaak oor die frustrasies waarmee inwoners daaglik worstel. “Ek kry regtig skaam vir ons land en die manier waarop dinge bestuur word,” sê sy. “Elke keer as ek vriende of familie van elders nie, bid ek dat ons ten minste water en elektrisiteit sal hê. Dis mos nie reg dat ons só moet leef nie.” Die krag was van Vrydag 11 Julie 2025 omstreeks 16:00 tot Saterdag 12 Julie teen 18:00 af in groot dele van Thabazimbi, Regorogile en omliggende gebiede. “Ek kan nie eers indink hoe mense wat met internasionale kliënte werk dit regkry nie. Dit voel asof ons in houthuises woon en niemand gee om nie,” voeg sy by. “Ja, ek wêét dit is nie die einde van die wêreld nie, en ja, ek weet ander plekke het erger probleme. Maar dit help nie om te sê ‘ander het dit slegter’ nie – dit maak nie ons situasie beter nie.” Sy sluit af met 'n ernstige versoek: “Die munisipaliteit móét beter beplan. Ons het langtermynoplossings nodig. Want regtig, #EkKrySkaam.”

Boy (14) dies in tragic scrap yard accident

The three-tonne steel ring involved in the tragic accident that claimed the life of a 14-year-old boy.

Dwaalboom – A community is in mourning following the devastating death of a 14-year-old boy, tragically killed while playing in a scrap yard on a farm along the Dwaalboom road. On Friday, 11 July 2025 at 11:55, Thaba Fire and Rescue (TFR) received an urgent call about a child trapped beneath a large piece of steel. The incident occurred approximately 31km out on the Dwaalboom road, at a farm where children had been playing in a scrapyard. When TFR teams arrived, the scene was heartbreaking. “By the time our team got there, the child had already passed away,” said Pierre Loots, director of TFR. “The steel ring that fell on him is estimated to weigh about three tonnes.” Emergency crews worked with great care and urgency, using a forklift and chain block to lift the massive steel ring and recover the boy's body. Loots expressed his sorrow and solidarity with the grieving family. “From all of us at TFR, our deepest sympathy and strength to the family. This was a heartbreaking scene,” he said. In addition to TFR, the South African Police Service, State Ambulance Services, Pathology Unit, and Forensics Team were all present at the scene and are continuing their investigations.

WINGS AT RISK

Concern Grows Over Cape Vulture Deaths Near Powerlines

Thabazimbi – The recent discovery of twelve deceased Cape Vultures near a stretch of powerlines just outside Marakele National Park has reignited concerns among conservationists and community members. The site lies only 500 metres from one of South Africa’s most important breeding colonies for the species, and experts believe the losses may reflect a pattern that has persisted for nearly a decade. While the exact number of past fatalities remains under investigation, local observations estimate that up to 100 vultures may have died at this location over the past nine years. The area forms part of a known migration route for the birds, with regular sightings of vultures perching or flying near the infrastructure.

The silence of extinction begins with small signs — a single feather on the ground, and no one listening.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Cape Vultures (Gyps coprotheres) are listed as Vulnerable on the IUCN Red List, with an estimated 9,600–12,800 mature individuals remaining. They play a vital role in the ecosystem by cleaning up carcasses, helping to curb the spread of disease. With each pair laying just one egg per season, the loss of even a few breeding adults can significantly impact future generations. Their survival depends on safe nesting areas — and safe airspace.

“This is not just a tragic accident — it is a predictable and entirely preventable loss of an endangered species,” said Kerri Wolter, CEO and founder of VulPro.

“We have repeatedly flagged this area near Marakele as high-risk. Eskom has the means and the responsibility to implement urgent mitigation measures. Their failure to act cost these birds their lives.”

WHAT HAPPENED?

VulPro, a registered vulture conservation organisation, has confirmed its involvement in investigating the recent incident, and is working closely with landowners and relevant stakeholders. A local farmworker, who has maintained the area’s fences and infrastructure for nearly a decade, noted that vulture deaths near this site are not a new occurrence: “Every year, when I check the lines, I see them. Sometimes they’re burned — I’ve seen maybe 80 to 100 over the years,” he said. The same area had previously been highlighted by conservationists as a potential risk zone due to the design and position of overhead structures. Reports dating back as far as 2015 suggested mitigation steps that could reduce the likelihood of bird collisions or electrocutions.

ESKOM AND THE WAY FORWARD

Eskom has been informed of the latest incident. According to VulPro, the utility does not currently include informal or historical observations in its official records, instead documenting only the most recent confirmed numbers — twelve in this case. The power utility has consistently expressed a willingness to engage on environmental matters, and VulPro has encouraged further dialogue to explore collaborative solutions. “This is not just a tragic accident — it is a predictable and entirely preventable loss of an endangered species,” said Kerri Wolter, CEO and founder of VulPro. “We have repeatedly flagged this area near Marakele as high-risk. Eskom has the means and the responsibility to implement urgent mitigation measures. Their failure to act cost these birds their lives.” VulPro suggests that long-term solutions may include retrofitting the line with bird-friendly structures or exploring alternative routing in sensitive areas.

The Kransberg cliffs in the Waterberg are home to one of the largest Cape Vulture breeding colonies in the region.

HOW YOU CAN HELP
Report injured or deceased vultures and large birds to VulPro:

Community members are encouraged to report sightings, and help raise awareness about the importance of these birds in our ecosystem. Constructive dialogue and pressure can help fast-track improvements to high-risk infrastructure.

A VISION FOR RECOVERY: THE WATERBERG WILDLIFE AND VULTURE CENTRE

To help reduce future losses and better respond to emergencies, a proposed vulture conservation and rehabilitation hub has been suggested for the Waterberg Biosphere.

- This facility would:
- Provide veterinary care and rehabilitation for injured birds
 - Serve as a rapid-response base for poisoning and electrocution events
 - Offer education and training opportunities for local communities
 - Create jobs and promote eco-tourism
 - Expand scientific research and breeding programmes

The centre would be ideally located near Marakele, in a newly declared conservancy zone.

A powerful reminder of what’s at stake — a Cape Vulture, one of South Africa’s most endangered raptors.

PROVERBS 3

Guidance for the Young

1 My son, do not forget my law,
But let your heart keep my commands;
2 For length of days and long life
And peace they will add to you.
3 Let not mercy and truth forsake you;
Bind them around your neck,
Write them on the tablet of your heart,
4 And so find favor and high esteem
In the sight of God and man.

5 Trust in the Lord with all your heart,
And lean not on your own understanding;
6 In all your ways acknowledge Him,
And He shall direct your paths.
7 Do not be wise in your own eyes;
Fear the Lord and depart from evil.
8 It will be health to your flesh,
And strength to your bones.

NEW KING JAMES VERSION (NKJV)

HAVE YOUR SAY

Do you agree that the Pension Funds Adjudicator should decide who gets a deceased person's pension?

A new law lets anyone challenge who a deceased person nominated as a pension beneficiary. The Pension Funds Adjudicator now has the final say – not the fund, and not the deceased's stated wishes. This aims to protect vulnerable dependents who may have been left out. But it also means the person who paid into the fund no longer has full control over who receives it. Is that fair, or not? What do you think?

"Yes, I agree. The Pension Adjudicator is an independent authority that can ensure the deceased's pension is handled fairly and responsibly."
Mashadi Tsiri, Thabazimbi

"No, I believe the person who owns the fund should state their wishes in a will before they pass. It's their right to decide."
Annelize Havenga, Thabazimbi

NOTICE OF AN ENVIRONMENTAL AUTHORISATION FOR THE PROPOSED DECOMMISSIONING/CLOSURE OF VARIOUS AREAS AND INFRASTRUCTURE AT AMANDELBULT MINE, LOCATED NEAR NORTHAM, LIMPOPO PROVINCE

AVAILABILITY OF THE DRAFT BASIC ASSESSMENT REPORT

Applicant: Rustenburg Platinum Mines (Pty) Ltd: Amandelbult Mine

Location: Schilpadnest 385 KQ RE; Elandsfontein 386 KQ RE; Amandelbult 383 KQ RE; Portions 1 and 2 of Elandskuil 378 KQ; Haakdoormdrift 374 KQ Portion 4; Middellaagte 382 KQ RE; Portions 17 and 24 of Zwartkop 369 KQ

Mining Right Number: LP 30/5/1/2/3/2/1(048)MR

Project description: Rustenburg Platinum Mines (Pty) Ltd (RPM): Amandelbult Mine (AMB) is the owner and operator of the AMB. The mine has been operating since the 1970s and is located near the town of Northam in the Thabazimbi Local and Waterberg District municipalities in the Limpopo Province. The mine extends over approximately 20km from west to east.

The main activities at the AMB is mining both the Merensky and Upper Group 2 (UG2) reefs using underground and open cast mining methods. Due to its size, the mine is divided into western, central and eastern sections. The Amandelbult Mine consists of four different operational units, namely Tumela Mine, Dishaba Mine, the Concentrator, Chrome Recovery Plant and associated Tailings Storage Facility (TSF) complex; and Support Services.

As AMB has been in operation since the 1970s, many of the shafts and associated infrastructure has become redundant as mining and concentrating has been completed in certain sections of the Mining Right area and is therefore no longer in use. These shafts have been placed on care and maintenance and poses a security risk to AMB as these areas are attractive to illegal artisanal miners. It is the intention of AAP to decommission various areas at AMB, which includes the Merensky Concentrator, various Decline, Raisebore and Footwall Shafts, various ventilations shafts, and infrastructure associated with these areas.

Alta van Dyk Environmental Consultants (Pty) Ltd (AvDE) has been appointed as the independent Environmental Assessment Practitioner to undertake the required Environmental Authorisation and associated public participation process in support of the decommissioning activities.

Authorisations required: Before AMB may commence with the proposed decommissioning of various areas at its operations, the following authorisation is required:

- Basic Assessment Environmental Authorisation process in terms of the National Environmental Management Act (Act 107 of 1998) (NEMA) and the Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) Regulations. The competent authority for this process is the Limpopo Department of Mineral and Petroleum Resources (DMPR) (previously known as the Department of Mineral Resources and Energy (DMRE)).

Availability of the Draft Basic Assessment Report:

The Draft Basic Assessment Report will be available for public comment for a period of 30 days, from 22 July to 22 August 2025, at the venues listed in the table below. The document is also available electronically on the AvDE website: <https://www.altavandykenvironmental.co.za/public-documents/>
