3 Cheetahs Killed in Steenbokpan

R100,000 REWARD

Steenbokpan – Conservationists and wildlife lovers are reeling after the tragic killing of three free-roaming cheetahs in the Steenbokpan area of Limpopo at the end of June 2025. The Cheetah Outreach Trust has now offered a reward of R100,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible.

According to Deon Cilliers, conservation manager at the Cheetah Outreach Trust, the cheetahs were seemingly deliberately run over by a vehicle. In a shocking attempt to cover up the incident, the satellite tracking collar fitted to one of the cheetahs was removed and buried.

"These cheetahs had been collared near Lephalale in April this year in a collaborative project with landowners and Rhino911," said Cilliers. "The goal was to monitor their movements as part of the Free Roaming Cheetah Census and to provide farmers with accurate scientific data to help mitigate human-wildlife conflict."

The Limpopo Department of Economic Development, Environment and Tourism (LEDET) has since opened a police case. Killing cheetahs is not only a devastating blow to conservation but also a serious wildlife crime.

Although Steenbokpan lies nearly two hours' drive from Thabazimbi, both areas share the same reliance on wildlife and farming for tourism and local economic growth. Incidents like this strike at the heart of the region's economy, where eco-tourism and agriculture are cornerstones of livelihoods. Protecting endangered wildlife is therefore not just about conservation — it's about safeguarding future prosperity.

The Cheetah Outreach Trust is urging members of the public to come forward. "Every cheetah life matters," Cilliers emphasised. "Cheetahs are endangered, and protecting them is critical for biodiversity."

Cilliers stressed that the Trust's focus is on cooperation, not conflict, with landowners. "We are definitely not here to conduct a witch hunt on farmers — our 20 years of working in farming communities have shown that collaboration is the key. Farmers experiencing predation issues with cheetahs are encouraged to contact us. We run an active and highly successful conflict-mitigation programme, including our Anatolian Livestock Guardian Dog Project, with more than 400 dogs already placed on farms to protect livestock. In addition, sightings of free-roaming cheetahs should be reported, as this data is vital for our Free Roaming Cheetah Census, which spans over 19 million hectares of farmland in South Africa. But deliberate and unjustified wildlife crimes must be taken seriously and dealt with by the authorities."

Anyone with information can contact the Trust on 082 853 1068 or via email at info@cheetahoutreachtrust.co.za. All tip-offs will be treated confidentially.

Fake Papers, Real Trouble

Northam – A 41-year-old man's attempt to land a mine job with fraudulent qualifications has backfired, ending in handcuffs. The suspect was arrested on Wednesday, 13 August 2025, in Brits and made his first court appearance the following day in the Northam Magistrate's Court. According to colonel Malesela Ledwaba, the arrest followed a case opened by a complainant from one of the mines in the Northam policing area. Investigations by the Limpopo Provincial Commercial Crime Investigation Unit revealed that the man had applied for a higher-level position in August 2023, using a fake blasting certificate. Police have confirmed that further arrests may follow as investigations continue. This arrest serves as a reminder that fraudulent qualifications not only put lives at risk in highly technical industries like mining but also carry serious legal consequences.

KICKING DRUGS TO THE CURB

Thabazimbi – From dusty streets to hopeful dreams, the Ngata Ntsi Football Club is proving that soccer is more than just a game – it’s a lifeline. Founded as a community-based initiative to keep young people away from drugs and crime, the club now boasts over 70 players across divisions ranging from under-11 to under-17. Through their ‘Clean Up the Streets’ programme, the club has built strong partnerships, including with SUDI – a substance use disorder intervention organisation. Every Thursday at Regorogile’s soccer field, SUDI facilitators meet with players to discuss the dangers of drugs and how to make better choices for the future.

“Our aim is to get the youth off the streets and give them a sense of purpose and pride,” says club leaders William Moses Shabangu (general secretary) and Johannes Jambo (head of technical). The results are already showing. Players describe finding belonging, commitment, and new friendships on and off the pitch. Recently, the under-15 squad proudly took home a second-place trophy at a local tournament, while the under-17 team competed in the 2025 Youth Uniting Against Substance Abuse Tournament.

Now, Ngata Ntsi is taking the next big step – preparing to enter official leagues. But as a non-profit organisation, they rely solely on donations and community support to keep the ball rolling. They have even been invited to play a team in Smash Block, but urgently need funding for transport and logistics to make it happen.

HOW YOU CAN HELP

Community members and businesses are encouraged to donate funds or resources to support the club’s mission. Contributions will go directly towards transport, kits, and expanding opportunities for local youth.

Many of us dream of making better choices for our health, happiness, and future — yet life’s busyness often gets in the way. Is this a silent goal you revisit from time to time, or something you’re actively working on right now?

Yes. Many of us feel those recurring reminders — a quiet nudge for more balance, energy, and purpose in life.

Christelle Barnard, Thabazimbi

Living a healthy lifestyle is central to my life. I’m young, vibrant, and love living — and to live long and well, I must be mindful of my health. While chasing big dreams, it’s easy to neglect wellness, so I focus on working out, eating healthy, praying, and enjoying alcohol in moderation.

Did you know?

The Red-Eyed Songster of Thabazimbi... If you've ever heard cheerful whistling in your garden, it might be the African red-eyed bulbul. This small bird, with its bright red eye-ring and lively chatter, is a true bushveld entertainer. Common in and around Thabazimbi, bulbuls love feasting on fruit, often helping nature by spreading seeds as they go. They're also famous mimics, sometimes copying the calls of other birds. Next time you see one hopping about, remember — you're looking at one of the bushveld's most spirited little singers!

Koedoeskop – Laughter, learning, and a love for nature filled the air at Laerskool Koedoeskop on Friday, 15 August 2025, when Wildlife Ranching South Africa (WRSA) hosted a special Wildlife Awareness Day.

With the slogan “Our Wildlife, Our Future”, WRSA set out to instil in learners the importance of protecting South Africa’s natural heritage. Children from Grade RR to Grade 7 were treated to a day that blended education with fun, making conservation something they could truly connect with.

Learning through experience

The learners discovered the fascinating world of animal tracking, the role of wildlife in ecosystems, and the value of safeguarding habitats. But it wasn’t all classroom-style learning — outdoor activities ensured children had hands-on experiences. Games like tug of war, sack races, knot-tying, and cultural flag ceremonies turned the day into a celebration of teamwork, heritage, and nature.

A cultural collaboration

Adding to the excitement, the Voortrekkers joined in partnership with WRSA to share their traditions and outdoor skills. Together, they created a memorable platform for children to learn not just about wildlife, but also about cultural pride and responsibility toward the land.

Gifts that keep the spirit alive

Every learner took home a wildlife-themed colouring book — a keepsake to continue their conservation journey at home, while reminding them that protecting wildlife starts with small steps.

Community thanks

Acting principal Lize Malan extended gratitude to WRSA, the Voortrekkers, and all involved, saying the event highlighted the value of collaboration in education. “Koedoeskop is at the heart of farming and wildlife culture in the greater Thabazimbi district. Days like these inspire our children to grow up as custodians of both heritage and nature,” she said.
