R510 Crash Claims One Life, Seven Learners Walk Away

The school bus carrying seven learners involved in the morning collision; all children have been medically assessed and are safe.

Platinum Bushvelder newspaper | Amandelbult, Thabazimbi – A serious road accident on the R510 near Amandelbult on Thursday morning, 22 January 2026, has once again focused attention on road safety and scholar transport conditions.

Early reports show a bakkie and a school bus carrying seven learners to Chrome Primary School collided on the busy route. Tragically, the bakkie driver died on the scene, while all seven schoolchildren walked away with only minor injuries. Emergency teams, including paramedics and rescue personnel, responded swiftly. The learners on the bus were confirmed to be safe and have been released right after the medical checks.

This local incident comes at a time when scholar transport safety is already in the national spotlight. Just a few days earlier, a separate scholar transport minibus crash near Vanderbijlpark in Gauteng claimed the lives of 14 schoolchildren when a taxi collided with a truck on 19 January 2026. That tragedy has sparked widespread concern and debate about road conditions, vehicle safety, driver training, and oversight of scholar transport across South Africa.

Following the R510 collision, Thaba Fire and Rescue has urged SANRAL to take long-overdue action on the R510. Pierre Loots, CEO of Thaba Fire and Rescue, said: “Once again, the R510 has claimed a life... Today, we were only lucky... How many lives must still be claimed before those responsible are held accountable and real action is taken?”

The cause of the accident is still being investigated by authorities.

Platinum Bushvelder newspaper | SA – Parents are often encouraged to do everything possible to keep their children healthy — especially during cold and flu season. But a recent warning from South African Health Products Regulatory Authority (SAHPRA) reminds us that not all products marketed for children are as safe as they appear.

On 8 January 2026, SAHPRA issued an official notice warning against the sale and use of certain children's “immune booster” products that contain zinc picolinate and/ or selenium.

Why the warning?
According to SAHPRA, zinc picolinate and selenium are not permitted ingredients in health supplements for children under the age of 18 under current South African regulations. These substances are listed as not allowed in SAHPRA's official health-supplement guidance for children. Despite this, products containing these ingredients are currently being sold — often labelled as immune boosters — and are promoted to help with:

- colds and flu
- diarrhoea
- skin conditions

Because of these claimed medical benefits, SAHPRA says these products are medicines, not simple supplements — and they require full registration and approval before they may be sold.

Safety concerns for children
SAHPRA highlighted specific risks associated with these ingredients:

- Zinc picolinate can cause side effects at any supplemental dose, including nausea, vomiting, diarrhoea, headaches, and indigestion. Its absorption in the body is unpredictable, which makes it unsuitable and potentially unsafe for children.
- Selenium, while necessary in very small amounts, can become harmful if intake is too high. SAHPRA warns that children may be at risk of selenium overdose, particularly when supplements are used without medical supervision.

What this means legally
SAHPRA has made it clear that:

- Products containing zinc picolinate or selenium do not qualify as Category D (complementary) medicines for children.
- Selling them as such is illegal.
- These products must instead be registered as Category A medicines, which undergo stricter safety and approval processes.
- All affected products must be withdrawn from the market within six months of the notice.

Advice for health professionals and shops
SAHPRA has instructed:

- Doctors, pharmacists, and retailers to stop selling or dispensing these products.
- All remaining stock to be removed from shelves and storage areas immediately.

Advice for parents and caregivers
Members of the public are urged to:

- Check children's supplements at home for zinc picolinate or selenium.
- Return affected products to the pharmacy, distributor, or supplier where they were purchased.
- Avoid giving children any supplement that claims to treat illnesses unless advised by a healthcare professional.

This warning is not about causing panic — it's about protecting children's health. SAHPRA reminds parents that “natural” or “immune-boosting” labels do not automatically mean a product is safe, especially for young bodies still developing.

South Africa pushes back against Foot-and-Mouth Disease

Platinum Publishers | South Africa continues to battle a widespread outbreak of Foot-and-Mouth Disease (FMD), with several provinces still affected. Authorities say the disease remains a serious threat to cattle and other cloven-hoofed animals, but a large-scale response is well underway.

More than two million animals have already been vaccinated, with additional vaccines being imported to strengthen containment efforts. Government and industry partners are working together to limit the spread, while farmers are urged to follow strict movement controls. Officials warn that illegal livestock movement remains a major challenge. Despite this, ongoing vaccination and coordinated action offer hope that the outbreak can be brought under control in the months ahead.

PSALM 5: 1-3

1 Give ear to my words,
O LORD,
Consider my meditation.
2 Give heed to the voice
of my cry,
My King and my God,
For to You I will pray.
3 My voice You shall hear in the morning, O LORD;
In the morning I will direct it to You,
And I will look up.

HAVE YOUR SAY

Is honesty always the best policy?

Honesty builds trust, strengthens relationships, and supports fairness – but real life isn't always simple. White lies, privacy, and compassion can complicate the picture. Where do you draw the line between truth and tact?

"Ja. Eerlikheid is nie altyd maklik nie, maar dit is belangrik. Mense moet weet waar hulle met jou staan — jou ja is ja, en jou nee is nee."

Ancia Sieberhagen, Thabazimbi

"No. Total honesty can sometimes create misunderstandings, damage relationships, or harm your career, even when you have done nothing wrong."

FUN FACT

Did you know?

WHY BUGS FLY INTO THE LIGHT... Most people know insects swarm around lights – even flames – but it's not because they love danger. Many night-flying insects navigate by keeping a constant angle to the Moon, which helps them fly straight. Artificial lights confuse this system. A nearby bulb is much closer than the Moon, so maintaining that angle makes the insect spiral inward. Flames and bright lights can trap them in endless loops, sometimes fatally. It's not attraction—it's a navigation error caused by modern lighting colliding with ancient instincts.

Thabazimbi Rides for Hope

Platinum Bushvelder newspaper | Thabazimbi – In February 2026, Thabazimbi will roar with more than motorbike engines — it will echo with hope.

The “Ride for a Child” charity motorbike event, organised by Pediatric Care Africa, is changing course this year for one very special reason: Caleb, a baby from Nelspruit born with a rare and severe brain condition that causes relentless seizures. Surgery is his only chance.

On Monday, 16 February 2026, the riders arrive in Thabazimbi as part of this national fundraising journey. The following day, Tuesday, 17 February, they will visit a local orphanage — a reminder that this ride is about children, community, and standing together when it matters most. Unlike previous years, the 2026 ride is not about distance, but direction — focusing all energy on raising funds for Caleb's life-saving brain surgery in Cape Town. Every rand raised goes directly to his verified BackaBuddy campaign to help cover medical, travel, and recovery costs.

Bikers, businesses, families and residents are encouraged to take note now, spread the word, and get ready to support when the riders roll in. Because when Thabazimbi shows up, it shows up strong — and for Caleb, that strength could mean a future.
